Special Meeting of Shareholders to be held February 27, 2013

Dear Shareholder:

Please take note that a Special Meeting of the New Century Opportunistic Portfolio (the “Opportunistic Portfolio”), a series of New Century Portfolios (the “Trust”), an open-end management investment company, will be held on Wednesday, February 27, 2013, at 100 William Street, Suite 200, Wellesley, Massachusetts, at 10:00 a.m. Eastern time (the “Meeting”).

At the Meeting, shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio will be asked to consider a proposal that the Opportunistic Portfolio be reorganized with, and merged into the New Century Capital Portfolio (“Capital Portfolio” and together, “Portfolios”), a diversified series of New Century Portfolios (the “Trust”), an open-end management investment company (the “Reorganization”). The proposal is intended to provide Opportunistic Portfolio shareholders with a comparable investment opportunity that will: (i) continue to be managed by the Opportunistic Portfolio’s current portfolio managers using a substantially similar investment strategy as is currently used in managing the Capital Portfolio and (ii) will have a similar, if not potentially lower expense ratio of the Capital Portfolio and the potential opportunity for increased economies of scale through the combined assets of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio. In this regard, the portfolio management team of the Opportunistic Portfolio also currently serve as the portfolio managers of the Capital Portfolio. In addition, the Capital Portfolio is expected to be the accounting survivor of the Reorganization transaction. After the Reorganization, it is expected that shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio will become shareholders of the Capital Portfolio.

If shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio approve the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization (“Reorganization Agreement”) described in the accompanying materials, all of the assets of the Opportunistic Portfolio will be transferred to the Capital Portfolio in exchange for shares of the Capital Portfolio having an aggregate value equal to the net asset value of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the assumption by the Capital Portfolio of all of the liabilities of the Opportunistic Portfolio. The Opportunistic Portfolio will then distribute to its shareholders shares of the Capital Portfolio to which each such shareholder is entitled in complete liquidation of the Opportunistic Portfolio. The proposal to approve the Reorganization includes the approval of the liquidation, termination and dissolution of the Opportunistic Portfolio following the Reorganization. As a result of the Reorganization, Opportunistic Portfolio shareholders will become shareholders of the Capital Portfolio, which is advised and administrated by Weston Financial Group, Inc. (the “Adviser”). The proposed Reorganization is intended to be a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. As a result, it is anticipated that shareholders will not recognize any gain or loss in connection with the proposed Reorganization.

Management strongly invites your participation by asking you to review these materials and complete and return the proxy card enclosed with these materials as soon as possible.

The Board of Trustees of New Century Portfolios (the “Board”) believes that the completion of the proposed Reorganization will enable shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio to benefit from, among other things: (1) the continued management of the Capital Portfolio by the current portfolio managers of the Opportunistic Portfolio using a substantially similar investment strategy as is currently used in managing the Capital Portfolio; (2) the larger asset base of the combined Portfolio, which, is expected to offer the potential for economies of scale and possible reductions in the per share expenses paid by shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio; and (3) the ability to exchange their shares of the Capital Portfolio for shares of other New Century Portfolios that offer a wide variety of investment goals and strategies.

If the Reorganization is approved by shareholders, the Opportunistic Portfolio will be combined with the Capital Portfolio and, if you are a shareholder of the Opportunistic Portfolio at the time of the closing of the Reorganization, you will (1) become a shareholder of the Capital Portfolio and (2) receive shares of the Capital Portfolio having an aggregate net asset value (“NAV”) equal to the aggregate NAV of your investment in the Opportunistic Portfolio immediately prior to the closing of the Reorganization. No sales charges will be imposed on Opportunistic Portfolio shares participating in the Reorganization. As noted above, the closing of the Reorganization will be conditioned upon, among other things, receiving an opinion of counsel to the effect that the proposed Reorganization will qualify as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. Detailed information about the proposed Reorganization and the reasons for shareholder approval of the Reorganization Agreement are contained in the enclosed proxy solicitation materials.

The Board strongly urges you to vote FOR approval of the Reorganization Agreement.

Please exercise your right to vote by completing, dating and signing the enclosed proxy card. SPECIAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS OF NEW CENTURY OPPORTUNISTIC PORTFOLIO
To Be Held on FEBRUARY 27, 2013

Relating To The Reorganization Into The New Century Capital Portfolio

This combined Proxy Statement and Prospectus (“Proxy Statement/Prospectus”) is being furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by, and on behalf of, the Board of Trustees of New Century Portfolios (the “Trust”) for use at the Special Meeting of Shareholders to be held at the offices of the Trust; 100 William Street, Suite 200, Wellesley, Massachusetts on Wednesday, the 27th day of February, 2013, at 10:00 a.m. (Eastern Time) (the “Special Meeting”), and any adjournment or postponement thereof, and may be revoked at any time before it is exercised by submission of another proxy bearing a later date, by voting through the Internet or by telephone, by attending the Special Meeting and voting in person, or by notifying the Trust of the revocation in writing to the Secretary of the Trust; 100 William Street, Suite 200, Wellesley, Massachusetts 02481. If not revoked, the proxy will be voted at the Special Meeting in accordance with the instructions indicated by the shareholder or, if no instructions are indicated, all shares represented by valid proxies received pursuant to this solicitation (and not revoked before they are voted) will be voted FOR Proposal No. 1.

At the Meeting, shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio will be asked to consider and act upon the following proposals:

- (1) To approve an Agreement and Plan of Reorganization providing for (a) the acquisition of all of the assets of the Opportunistic Portfolio by the New Century Capital Portfolio (“Capital Portfolio”), a diversified series of the Trust, an open-end management investment company, in exchange for shares of the Capital Portfolio and the assumption by the Capital Portfolio of all liabilities of the Opportunistic Portfolio and (b) the subsequent liquidation, termination, and dissolution of the Opportunistic Portfolio; and
- (2) To transact such other business as may properly come before the Special Meeting (including any adjournments, or postponements thereof).

Under the proposed Reorganization Agreement, each shareholder of the Opportunistic Portfolio would be entitled to receive shares of the Capital Portfolio having an aggregate net asset value (“NAV”) equal to the aggregate value of the shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio held by that shareholder as of the close of business on the business day of the closing of the Reorganization. You are being asked to approve the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization (the “Reorganization Agreement”) pursuant to which the Reorganization transaction would be accomplished. Because shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio are being asked to approve a Reorganization transaction that will result in them holding shares of the Capital Portfolio, this Proxy Statement/Prospectus also serves as a Prospectus offering shares of the Capital Portfolio.

If the Reorganization Agreement is approved by shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio, holders of the Opportunistic Portfolio will receive shares of the Capital Portfolio. Further, this Reorganization transaction is being structured as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. (In this regard, please see “Information About the Reorganization—Federal Income Tax Consequences.”) However, Opportunistic Portfolio shareholders should consult their tax advisors to determine the actual impact of the Reorganization on them in light of their individual tax circumstances.

The investment objectives, principal investment strategies and principal investment risks of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio (each a “Fund” and, together, the “Portfolios”) are substantially similar as well as their strategies and policies of the Portfolios. As such, the investment objective, strategies and non-fundamental investment policies of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio are similar, whereby both Portfolios primary investment objective is to provide capital growth, however the Opportunistic Portfolio does so without regard to current income while managing risk, while the Capital Portfolio’s secondary investment objection is to provide income, while managing risk. Nevertheless, the Capital Portfolio is permitted to invest in a similar range of equity securities as the Opportunistic Portfolio. Both the Opportunistic Portfolio and Capital Portfolio invest primarily in shares of registered investment companies, including exchange traded funds (“ETFs”) that emphasize investments in equity securities such as common stocks, preferred stocks or securities convertible into stocks and bonds (domestic and foreign). Further, it is important to note that, the portfolio managers of the Opportunistic Portfolio are currently managing the Capital Portfolio using substantially similar investment strategies and policies that are used in managing the Opportunistic Portfolio.

This Proxy Statement/Prospectus, which should be retained for future reference, sets forth concisely the information about the Capital Portfolio that a prospective investor should know before investing. A Statement of Additional Information (“SAI”) for the Capital Portfolio dated March 1, 2012, relating to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus is incorporated herein by reference into this Proxy Statement/Prospectus..

The following documents have been filed with the SEC and are available through its website: (1) the Prospectus dated March 1, 2012 and the SAI dated March 1, 2012 which contain additional and more detailed information about each Portfolio and the risks of investing in each Portfolio, and is incorporated by reference into this Proxy Statement/Prospectus (collectively the “Registration Documents” dated March 1, 2012); and (2) the Annual Report dated October 31, 2012. Copies of each of these documents relating to the Opportunistic Portfolio and Capital Portfolio, and any subsequently released Capital Portfolio shareholder reports are also available upon request and Free of Charge by calling New Century Portfolios at (888) 639-0102; writing to New Century Portfolios at 100 William Street, Suite 200, Wellesley, Massachusetts 02481; or by clicking on New Century’s website, free of charge at www.newcenturyportfolios.com.

Accompanying this Proxy Statement/Prospectus as Appendix D is a copy of the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization pertaining to the transaction.

Mutual fund shares are not bank deposits and are not insured or guaranteed by the federal deposit insurance corporation or any other government agency. COMMON QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE PROPOSED REORGANIZATION

Q. How will the Reorganization affect me?

A. As of the closing of the Reorganization, the assets of the Opportunistic Portfolio will be combined with those of the Capital Portfolio and the liabilities of the Opportunistic Portfolio will be assumed by the Capital Portfolio. You will become a shareholder of the Capital Portfolio and will receive shares of the Capital Portfolio that are equal in value to the shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio that you held immediately prior to the closing of the Reorganization. The portfolio management team of the Opportunistic Portfolio have also served as the portfolio management team of the Capital Portfolio since 2002. It is expected that the Capital Portfolio will be the performance and accounting survivor in the Reorganization. The Reorganization has been structured as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes so shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio will not recognize any taxable gain or loss as a result of the Reorganization.

Q. Why is the Reorganization being recommended?

A. The Reorganization is being recommended by the Adviser due to the similar investment objectives of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio. In addition, the Board of Trustees of New Century Portfolios (the "Board") has taken into account the smaller size of the Opportunistic Portfolio which means that the Opportunistic Portfolio would not be able to achieve economies of scale with respect to expenses. The Board believes that the completion of the proposed Reorganization will enable shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio to benefit from, among other things: (1) the continued management of the Portfolio by the current portfolio managers of the Opportunistic Portfolio; (2) the overall investment expertise and resources of Weston Financial Group, Inc., the investment adviser for the Capital Portfolio; (3) the larger asset base of the resulting Capital Portfolio, which is expected to offer potential for economies of scale and possible reductions in the per share expenses paid by shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio; and (4) the ability to exchange their shares of the Capital Portfolio for shares of other New Century Portfolios that offer a variety of investment goals and strategies.

Before approving the proposed Reorganization, the Board evaluated the potential benefits to the shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio. After careful consideration, the Board determined that the Reorganization Agreement is in the best interests of the Opportunistic Portfolio and its shareholders. Through this proxy, the Board is submitting the proposed Reorganization to you—the shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio—for a vote. The Board strongly urges you to vote FOR approval of the Reorganization Agreement.

Q. How do the fees paid by the Capital Portfolio compare to those payable by the Opportunistic Portfolio?

A. The pro forma total per share operating expenses of the Capital Portfolio, upon completion of the Reorganization, are expected to be at least as favorable as the current per share operating expenses of the Opportunistic Portfolio. Pro forma fee, expense and financial information are included in this Proxy Statement/Prospectus for your reference. Pursuant to an Operating Expense Agreement, the Adviser has agreed contractually through at least March 1, 2014 to reduce or limit fees or to assume other expenses of the Capital Portfolio so that, on an annualized basis, the Total Net Annual Operating Expenses of the combined Capital Portfolio do not exceed 1.50%, which are the same as the Total Net Operating Expenses of the Opportunistic Portfolio, excluding Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses. Therefore, it is not anticipated that the total per share operating expenses of the combined Capital Portfolio will exceed the current total per share operating expenses of the Opportunistic Portfolio through at least March 1, 2014. Please note that there is no guarantee that the Operating Expense Agreement will be extended after its expiration or at the currently specified expense level.

Q. Will I have to pay any sales charge, commission or other transactional fee in connection with the Reorganization?

A. No. The full value of each share of the Opportunistic Portfolio will be exchanged for shares of the Capital Portfolio without the imposition of any sales charge, redemption fee, commission or other transactional fee.

Q. Who serves as investment adviser to the Capital Portfolio?

A. Weston Financial Group, Inc (the "Adviser") is the investment adviser for and administrator of the Capital Portfolio. The Adviser is based in Wellesley, Massachusetts and was founded in 1979. As of December 31, 2012, the Adviser had approximately $1.7 billion in assets under management.

Q. Will the portfolio management team for the Capital Portfolio be different than the portfolio management team for the Opportunistic Portfolio?

A. No. The portfolio management team of the Opportunistic Portfolio will remain the same portfolio management team of the Capital Portfolio.

Q. Will I have to pay any federal income taxes as a result of the Reorganization?

A. The transaction has been structured to qualify as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes and is expected to so qualify. If the Reorganization qualifies for treatment as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes, shareholders will not recognize any taxable gain or loss as a result of the Reorganization. As a condition to the closing of the Reorganization, the Opportunistic Portfolio will receive an opinion of counsel to the effect that the Reorganization will qualify as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. As a shareholder of the Opportunistic Portfolio, you should separately consider any state, local and other tax consequences in consultation with your tax advisor. Opinions of counsel are not binding on the Internal Revenue Service or the courts.

Q. Will I be able to exchange my shares for shares of other New Century Portfolios?

A. Yes. After the Reorganization, as a shareholder of the Capital Portfolio, you will be able to exchange your shares of the Capital Portfolio for shares of New Century Portfolios, which are series of the same Trust, subject to certain restrictions described in the Prospectus. Such exchanges will not be subject to any sales charges but are taxable transactions. Before requesting any such exchange, you should carefully review the Prospectus for the other New Century Portfolios to ensure that it meets your investment objectives and needs.

Q. Who will pay the expenses relating to the Reorganization?

A. The Adviser will bear all of the expenses of both Portfolios in connection with the Reorganization, except for portfolio brokerage fees associated with the Reorganization, if any. At the present time it is not expected that there will be any brokerage fees with this Transaction.

Q. What happens if the Reorganization Agreement is not approved?

A. If the Reorganization Agreement is not approved by shareholders, the Reorganization will not occur. In such an event, the Opportunistic Portfolio and Capital Portfolio will continue to operate separately, and the Adviser and the Board will determine what additional steps are appropriate and in the best interests of the Opportunistic Portfolio and its shareholders.

Q. What if there are not enough votes to reach a quorum by the scheduled date of the special meeting?

A. If a quorum is not obtained by the scheduled meeting date, the Special Meeting will be adjourned to allow more time to solicit additional proxies from shareholders. We urge you to vote promptly after reviewing the enclosed material so that we can avoid additional expenses and delay associated with additional proxy solicitation efforts. The persons named as proxies may propose one or more adjournments of the Special Meeting to permit further solicitation of proxies from shareholders. If it is determined that such further solicitation is not likely to be successful in obtaining the required quorum, the proxy solicitation may be abandoned and the Board will determine what additional steps are appropriate and in the best interests of the Opportunistic Portfolio and its shareholders.

Q. Who is eligible to vote?

A. Only Opportunistic Portfolio shareholders who are record holders on the close of business on January 15, 2013 (the "Record Date") are entitled to attend and vote at the Special Meeting or any adjournments thereof.

Q. How many votes am I entitled to cast?

A. You are entitled to one vote for each share (and a fractional vote for each fractional share) of the Opportunistic Portfolio that you owned on the Record Date.

Q. How do I vote my shares?

A. You may vote by signing, dating and returning your proxy card in the enclosed postage-paid envelope. Alternatively, you may vote your proxy via the telephone or the Internet using the information provided on your proxy card. Please take advantage of these voting options. You may also vote in person at the Special Meeting. If you submitted a proxy by mail, by telephone or via the Internet, you may withdraw it at the Special Meeting and then vote in person at the Special Meeting or you may submit a superseding proxy by mail, by telephone or via the Internet. If you sign a proxy card, but do not indicate your voting instructions, your shares will be voted for approval of the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization. If any other business comes before the meeting, your shares will be voted at the discretion of the persons named as proxies.

Q. Whom do I call if I have questions after reading these materials?

A. If you have questions regarding the Special Meeting, the Proposals or the Proxy Statement/Prospectus, please call New Century Portfolios, toll free at (888) 639-0102.

PROPOSAL NO. 1 - APPROVAL OF THE AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

SUMMARY

This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the additional information contained elsewhere in this Proxy Statement/Prospectus and the Reorganization Agreement, a copy of which is attached to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus as Appendix D. The materials in the exhibits and the Registration Documents dated March 1, 2012 are incorporated herein by reference into this Proxy Statement/Prospectus.

PROPOSED REORGANIZATION

At a meeting held on January 23, 2013, the Board of the New Century Portfolios approved the Reorganization Agreement, subject to the approval of the shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio of the Reorganization Agreement. The Reorganization Agreement provides for:

- the transfer of all of the assets of the Opportunistic Portfolio to the Capital Portfolio in exchange for shares of the Capital Portfolio having an aggregate value equal to the net asset value (“NAV”) of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the assumption by the Capital Portfolio of all of the liabilities of the Opportunistic Portfolio;
- the distribution to each of the shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio of shares of the Capital Portfolio having an aggregate NAV equal to the aggregate NAV of the shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio held by that shareholder immediately prior to the closing of the Reorganization; and
- the complete liquidation of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the subsequent termination and dissolution of the Opportunistic Portfolio in accordance with applicable law and New Century Portfolios’ organizational documents.

The Proposal is intended to provide Opportunistic Portfolio shareholders with a comparable investment opportunity that (i) will continue to be managed by the Opportunistic Portfolio’s current portfolio managers using a substantially similar investment strategy as is currently used in managing the Capital Portfolio and (ii) will have a similar, if not potentially lower expense ratio in the Capital Portfolio and the potential opportunity for increased economies of scale through the combined assets of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio. In addition, the Capital Portfolio is expected to be the accounting survivor of the Reorganization transaction.

If the Reorganization Agreement is approved by shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio, such shareholders will receive shares of the Capital Portfolio. Further, this Reorganization transaction is being structured as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. (In this regard, please see “Information About the Reorganization—Federal Income Tax Consequences.”) However, Opportunistic Portfolio shareholders should consult their tax advisors to determine the actual impact of the Reorganization on them in light of their individual tax circumstances.

The Reorganization Agreement provides that the Reorganization shall be effective as of the close of business on February 28, 2013 (“Closing Date”). The Closing Date may be postponed if the Opportunistic Portfolio has not yet obtained the requisite vote needed to approve the Reorganization or for any other reason as the parties may agree. As a result of the Reorganization, each shareholder of the Opportunistic Portfolio will become the owner of the number of full and fractional shares of the Capital Portfolio having an aggregate NAV equal to the aggregate NAV of the shareholder’s Opportunistic Portfolio shares as of the close of business on the Closing Date. Shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio will receive shares of the Capital Portfolio. See “Information About the Reorganization” below.

For the reasons set forth below under “Reasons for the Reorganization,” the Board, including all of the Trustees deemed to be “independent,” to the extent such Trustees are not considered to be “interested persons” of the New Century Portfolios as defined in Section 2(a)(19) of the 1940 Act (“Independent Trustees”), has concluded that (1) the Reorganization would be in the best interests of the Opportunistic Portfolio; (2) the interests of the Opportunistic Portfolio’s existing shareholders would not be diluted as a result of the Reorganization; and (3) the Reorganization Agreement should be submitted to shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio for approval. The Board of Trustees have also approved the Reorganization on behalf of the Capital Portfolio.

The Board recommends that you vote “FOR” the proposed Reorganization Agreement effecting the Reorganization.

Comparison of Fees and Expenses

The following tables compare the fees and expenses of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio and show the estimated fees and expenses on a pro forma basis, giving effect to the proposed Reorganization. We have estimated these pro forma numbers in good faith, based on information contained in: (i) the Annual Report and Semi-Annual Report to Shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio and Capital Portfolio for the fiscal period ended April 30, 2012 and the fiscal year ended October 31, 2012, respectively, and (ii) unaudited information as of October 31, 2012. Shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio will receive shares of the Capital Portfolio as part of the Reorganization. For additional pro forma information on the Statement of Operations, Statement of Assets and Liabilities and Schedule of Investments refer to Appendix B.

- Columns 1 and 2 reflect the annualized fees and expenses for the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio, respectively, for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2012.
- Column 3 reflects the pro forma fees and expenses of the combined Capital Portfolio as if the Reorganization had occurred as of November 1, 2012.

Expense Example

This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in each Fund and the Portfolios combined with the cost of investing in other mutual Portfolios. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in each Fund for the time periods indicated, that your investment has a 5% return each year, and that all dividends and distributions are reinvested. The fees and expenses used to calculate the example are based on the fees and expenses shown in the table above. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Opportunistic Portfolio	$205	$723	$1,267	$2,754

Portfolio Turnover Comparison

Each Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect each Fund's performance. During each Fund's most recent fiscal year, the portfolio turnover rate was 5% and 7% of the Fund's portfolio, for the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio, respectively.

Comparison of Investment Objectives and Principal Investment Strategies

This section will help you compare the investment objectives and principal investment strategies of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio. Please note that this is only a brief discussion. Additional comparative information of the Portfolios' investment strategies and risks, as well as differences among their fundamental investment restrictions, can be found in the most current version of the Registration Documents dated March 1, 2012; which are incorporated by reference into this Proxy Statement/Prospectus. In evaluating this information, it is important to note that, the portfolio managers of the Capital Portfolio, who are also the portfolio managers of the Opportunistic Portfolio, expect to use investment strategies and policies for the Capital Portfolio that are substantially similar to those used in managing the Opportunistic Portfolio.

The investment objective of both Portfolios is to seek to achieve its investment objective by investing primarily in shares of registered investment companies, including ETFs, that emphasize investments in equity securities such as common stocks, preferred stocks, or securities convertible into stocks (domestic and foreign).

The Opportunistic Portfolio will select investment companies that seek to achieve above-average growth through investment in equity securities of companies expected to appreciate as a result of growing or strong earnings, or the growth or advancement of the company’s business, products, etc. For example, the portion of the Opportunistic Portfolio that is invested in equity securities may be invested in investment companies that focus on capital appreciation, aggressive growth, growth, growth and income, equity income, small-capitalization, medium-capitalization and foreign equities. The Opportunistic Portfolio may also invest in an investment company that seeks appreciation by investing in a portfolio of debt securities, including high-yield, lower rated debt securities or a portfolio of equity securities that is concentrated in a particular industry or style sector. The Opportunistic Portfolio uses a flexible approach to selecting investments and is not limited by an underlying fund’s investment style (such as growth or value), its market capitalization range (such as small, middle or large capitalization companies) or any specific average weighted maturity range (such as short-term, intermediate-term or long-term fixed income securities).

The Capital Portfolio will diversify its equity investments by investing primarily in investment companies that focus on different segments of the equity markets. For example, the Capital Portfolio may be invested in investment companies that emphasize growth, growth and income, equity income, small-capitalization, aggressive, and foreign equities. The Capital Portfolio uses a flexible approach in selecting investments and is not limited by an underlying fund’s investment style (such as growth or value) or its market capitalization range (such as small, middle or large capitalization companies).

Key Differences to Consider: Both the Opportunistic Portfolio and Capital Portfolio’s primary investment objective is to provide capital growth, however the Opportunistic Portfolio does so without regard to current income, while managing risk; whereas the Capital Portfolio’s secondary objective is to, earn income. Further, the Opportunistic Portfolio deploys sector concentration to take advantage of specific market momentum; whereas the Capital Portfolio utilizes disciplined category ranges to reduce risk. In addition, the Opportunistic Portfolio may also invest in high-yield lower rated debt securities, while the Capital Portfolio generally does not.

Performance of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio

The bar chart and performance table on the following page provide some indication of the risk of an investment in the Capital Portfolio. The bar chart shows the changes in the Capital Portfolio’s performance from year to year and show the Capital Portfolio’s average annual total returns for different calendar periods over the prior ten years of the Fund compared to those of a broad-based securities market index.

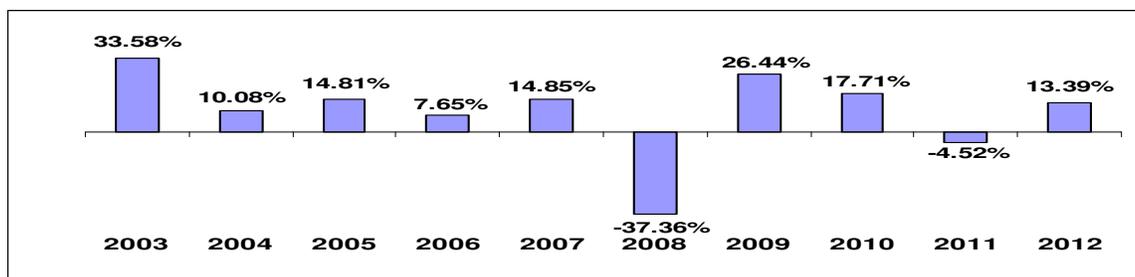

However, because the Capital Portfolio will be the accounting and performance survivor in the Reorganization, following the Reorganization the Capital Portfolio will adopt the performance history of the Opportunistic Portfolio, adjusted to reflect the differences in fees and certain expenses between the Capital Portfolio and the Opportunistic Portfolio. Therefore, the performance information shown below is the historical performance of the Opportunistic Portfolio. For information regarding the actual historical performance of the Capital Portfolio, please refer to the Prospectus dated March 1, 2012.

The annual returns in the bar chart are for the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio. Please see “Comparison of Fees and Expenses” above for information about the difference between the fees and expenses of each Portfolio.

When you consider this information, please remember that the Fund’s performance in past years (before and after taxes) is not necessarily an indication of how the Fund will perform in the future.

Dividends and Distributions

Both Portfolios declare and pay dividends from net investment income, if any, and distribute net realized capital gains, if any, at least annually. Dividends and distributions are generally subject to federal income tax. For both Portfolios, unless the shareholder elects to be paid in cash, all dividends and distributions are reinvested automatically in additional shares of the same class of the respective Portfolios at net asset value (“NAV”), without any front-end or contingent deferred sales charge. Following the Reorganization, shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio that have elected to receive distributions in cash will continue to receive distributions in cash from the Capital Portfolio. See “Appendix C—How to Buy, Sell and Exchange Shares” for a further discussion regarding the distribution policies of the Capital Portfolio.

Tax Consequences

Completion of the Reorganization is subject to the Opportunistic Portfolio receiving an opinion from legal counsel to the effect that the Reorganization will qualify as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. See “Information about the Reorganization—Federal Income Tax Consequences.”

Payments to Broker Dealers and Other Financial Intermediaries

If you purchase a Portfolio through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a financial adviser or bank), the Portfolio and/or its Distributor may pay the intermediary a fee to compensate it for the services it provides, which may include performing sub-accounting services, delivering Portfolio documents to shareholders and providing information about the Portfolio. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other financial intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the Portfolio over another investment. Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary’s Web site for more information.

COMPARISON OF INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES, PRINCIPAL INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISKS OF INVESTING IN THE PORTFOLIOS

The following discussion comparing investment objectives, principal investment strategies and risks of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio is based upon, and qualified in its entirety by, the description of the respective investment objectives, principal investment strategies and risks set forth in the Registration Documents dated March 1, 2012. Please also refer to the additional comparative information provided in Appendix A for a description of the Portfolios’ other investment strategies and risks and differences in fundamental investment restrictions.

Investment Objectives

The investment objective of both Portfolios is to provide for capital growth; however the Capital Portfolio has a secondary investment objective to provide income; while managing risk; whereas the Opportunistic Portfolio provides capital growth; without regard to current income; while managing risk.

Principal Investment Strategies

The principal investment strategies of the Portfolios as set forth in the Prospectus offering the Portfolios’ shares are substantially similar, although not identical. In evaluating this information, it is important to note that the portfolio managers of the Capital Portfolio, who currently are also the portfolio managers of the Opportunistic Portfolio, expect to use investment strategies and policies for the Capital Portfolio that are substantially similar to those used in managing the Opportunistic Portfolio.

The Opportunistic Portfolio will select for its portfolio, investment companies that seek to achieve above-average growth through investment in equity securities of companies expected to appreciate as a result of growing or strong earnings, or the growth or advancement of the company’s business, products, etc. For example, the portion of the Opportunistic Portfolio that is invested in equity securities may be invested in investment companies that focus on capital appreciation, aggressive growth, growth, growth and income, equity income, small-capitalization, medium-capitalization and foreign equities. The Opportunistic Portfolio may also invest in an investment company that seeks appreciation by investing in a portfolio of debt securities, including high-yield, lower rated debt securities or a portfolio of equity securities that is concentrated in a particular industry or style sector. The Opportunistic Portfolio uses a flexible approach to selecting investments and is not limited by an underlying fund’s investment style (such as growth or value), its market capitalization range (such as small, middle or large capitalization companies) or any specific average weighted maturity range (such as short-term, intermediate-term or long-term fixed income securities).

The Capital Portfolio will diversify its equity investments by investing primarily in investment companies that focus on different segments of the equity markets. For example, the Capital Portfolio may be invested in investment companies that emphasize growth, growth and income, equity income, small-capitalization, aggressive, and foreign equities. The Capital

Portfolio uses a flexible approach in selecting investments and is not limited by an underlying fund's investment style (such as growth or value) or its market capitalization range (such as small, middle or large capitalization companies).

Each of the Portfolios has also adopted certain fundamental investment restrictions, which may not be changed without shareholder approval. Thus, the fundamental investment restrictions of each Fund, and the policies are similar and include investment policies required by the 1940 Act. See Appendix A for a side-by-side comparison of the Portfolios' fundamental investment restrictions.

Principal Investment Risks

Because both of the Portfolios have similar investment objectives and substantially similar principal investment strategies, many of the risks of investing in the Capital Portfolio are substantially the same as the risks of investing in the Opportunistic Portfolio. However, the Opportunistic Portfolio is subject to the following two additional principal investment risks, for which there is no direct counterpart in the principal investment risk disclosures in the Prospectus of the Capital Portfolio. Further, there are additional investment risks, such as the risks of investing in investment companies, market capitalization, asset allocation to name a few, for additional information please refer to Appendix A of this filing.

Credit / High-Yield Risk. The Opportunistic Portfolio is subject to credit risk. The Opportunistic Portfolio may lose money if the issuer of a fixed income security or distressed security cannot meet its financial obligations or goes bankrupt. Distressed securities, such as high-yield, lower-rated debt securities (i.e. "junk bonds") are considered to be more speculative than higher quality fixed income securities. Distressed securities are more susceptible to credit risk than investment-grade securities, which may be especially true during periods of economic uncertainty or during economic downturns.

Diversification. Some of the underlying funds in which the Opportunistic Portfolio may invest are classified as non-diversified funds for purposes of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. This means that the underlying fund may invest a larger portion of its assets in a small number of securities. This may cause the market action of the underlying fund's larger security positions to have a greater impact on the fund's net asset value per share, which could lead to increased volatility.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE REORGANIZATION

Reorganization Agreement

The following summary of the Reorganization Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the form of Reorganization Agreement, which is attached to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus as Appendix D. The Reorganization Agreement provides that the Capital Portfolio will acquire all of the assets, subject to all of the liabilities, of the Opportunistic Portfolio in exchange for shares of the Capital Portfolio. Subject to the satisfaction of the conditions described below, such acquisition is scheduled to occur as of the close of business on Thursday, February 28, 2013 ("Closing Date"). The Closing Date may be postponed if the Fund has not yet obtained the requisite vote needed to approve the Reorganization or for any other reason. The NAV per share of the Opportunistic Portfolio will be determined by dividing the Opportunistic Portfolio's assets, less liabilities, by the total number of its outstanding shares. The NAV per share of the Capital Portfolio will be determined by dividing the combined Capital Portfolio's assets, less liabilities, by the total number of outstanding shares of the Capital Portfolio. Please refer to Appendix B for additional financial and investment information and related notes for the combined data.

The Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio both use Ultimus Fund Solutions, LLC, its, transfer agent and fund accounting agent, to calculate the NAV for the Portfolios. The method of valuation that is employed to value the securities of each Fund is in accordance with the procedures described in the Prospectus, which is consistent with Rule 22c-1 under the 1940 Act and with the interpretations of such rule by the SEC. The number of full and fractional shares of the Capital Portfolio you will receive in the Reorganization will be equal in value to the value of your shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio as of the close of regularly scheduled trading on the New York Stock Exchange (the "Exchange") on the Closing Date.

As promptly as practicable after the Closing Date, the Opportunistic Portfolio will liquidate and distribute pro rata to its shareholders of record as of the close of regularly scheduled trading on the Exchange on the Closing Date the shares of the Capital Portfolio received by the Opportunistic Portfolio in the Reorganization. The Opportunistic Portfolio will accomplish the liquidation and distribution with respect to Opportunistic Portfolio's shares by the transfer of the Capital Portfolio shares then credited to the account of the Opportunistic Portfolio on the books of the Capital Portfolio to open accounts on the share records of the Capital Portfolio in the names of the Opportunistic Portfolio's shareholders. The aggregate NAV of shares of the Capital Portfolio that will be credited to Opportunistic Portfolio shareholders on the on the Closing Date. All issued and outstanding shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio will simultaneously be canceled on the books of the Opportunistic Portfolio. The Capital Portfolio will not issue certificates representing the shares of the Capital Portfolio issued in connection with such transaction. After such distribution, the Trust will take all necessary steps under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the Trust's Declaration of Trust and By-Laws, and any other applicable laws or regulations to effect a complete termination and dissolution of the Opportunistic Portfolio.

The Board of Trustees have determined that the interests of shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio will not be diluted as a result of the Reorganization and that participation in the Reorganization is in the best interests of the Opportunistic Portfolio and its shareholders. The Adviser will bear the expenses of the Reorganization, excluding portfolio brokerage fees and expenses incurred in connection with the Reorganization.

The Reorganization Agreement may be terminated and the Reorganization abandoned at any time prior to the consummation of the Reorganization by mutual written agreement of the parties or by action of one party or the other and under other circumstances as provided in the Reorganization Agreement. If the Reorganization is approved by shareholders but is NOT completed for any reason, including termination of the Reorganization prior to the Closing Date by mutual agreement of the parties or for failure of either party to satisfy a condition required by the Reorganization Agreement for the closing to be completed, the Opportunistic Portfolio and Capital Portfolio will continue to operate separately, and the Board of Trustees of will determine what additional steps are appropriate and in the best interests of the Opportunistic Portfolio and its shareholders.

The Reorganization Agreement provides that the Trust, on behalf of the Opportunistic Portfolio and on behalf of the Capital Portfolio, may waive compliance with any of the covenants or conditions made therein for the benefit of their respective Portfolios, other than the requirements that: (1) the Reorganization Agreement be approved by shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio in accordance with the provision of the Declaration of Trust and By-laws of the Opportunistic Portfolio, applicable state law and the 1940 Act; and (2) the Opportunistic Portfolio and Capital Portfolio receive the opinion of counsel that the transaction contemplated by the Reorganization Agreement will constitute a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes.

Shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio as of the Closing Date will receive shares of the Capital Portfolio in accordance with the procedures provided for in the Reorganization Agreement, as described above. Each such share will be fully paid and non-assessable when issued.

Description of the Capital Portfolio's Shares

Full and fractional shares of the Capital Portfolio will be issued to the Opportunistic Portfolio's shareholders in accordance with the procedures detailed in the Reorganization Agreement. The Capital Portfolio does not issue share certificates. The shares of the Capital Portfolio to be issued to Opportunistic Portfolio's shareholders and recorded on the shareholder records of the transfer agent will have no pre-emptive or conversion rights, as more fully described in the most current Registration Documents dated March 1, 2012.

Reasons for the Reorganization

The Board of the Opportunistic Portfolio believes that the completion of the proposed Reorganization will enable shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio to benefit from, among other things: (1) the continued management of the Portfolio by the current portfolio managers of the Opportunistic Portfolio; (2) the overall investment expertise and additional resources of the Weston Financial, the investment adviser for the Capital Portfolio; (3) the larger asset base of the combined Fund which, is expected to offer potential for economies of scale and possible reductions in the per share expenses paid by shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio; and (4) the ability to exchange their shares of the Capital Portfolio for shares of other New Century Portfolios that offer a variety of investment goals and strategies. On January 23, 2013 the Board voted to approve the Reorganization between the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio. The Boards of Trustees concluded that the Reorganization would be in the best interests of the respective Portfolios and their shareholders, and that neither the interests of their respective shareholders would not be diluted as a result of the Reorganization.

In arriving at its conclusions, the Board of each Fund considered, among other things, the following facts:

- The investment objective of each of the Portfolios is the same and the principal investment strategies of the Portfolios are substantially similar;
- The pro forma expense ratios of the Capital Portfolio at the closing of the Reorganization are the same as, or lower than, those of the corresponding classes of the Opportunistic Portfolio;
- As of December 31, 2012, the portfolio management team for the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio were the same;
- The Reorganization has been structured to qualify as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes;
- No sales charge, redemption fee, commission or other transactional fee will be charged to Opportunistic Portfolio shareholders in the Reorganization; and
- The costs of the Reorganization (other than portfolio brokerage fees and expenses associated with the purchase and sale of portfolio securities) will be borne by the Adviser.

In addition to the information described above, the Adviser also provided information to the Board concerning: (1) the specific terms of the Reorganization, including information regarding comparative expense ratios; (2) detailed comparisons of the Portfolios' investment objectives, strategies, limitations and performance; (3) comparative information concerning the existing holdings of each Fund; and (4) the registered public accounting firm, custodian, administrator, transfer agent and distributor for the Capital Portfolio; and (5) alternatives to the Reorganization considered by the Adviser.

In light of the foregoing considerations, the Board of Trustees unanimously concluded that (1) the Reorganization is in the best interests of the Opportunistic Portfolio and (2) the Reorganization would not result in a dilution of the interest of shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio. Similarly, the Board of Trustees of New Century Portfolios also approved the Reorganization with respect to the Capital Portfolio and determined that (1) the Reorganization is in the best interests of the Capital Portfolio and (2) the interests of shareholders of the Capital Portfolio would not be diluted as a result of the Reorganization.

Federal Income Tax Consequences

The Reorganization is intended to qualify for federal income tax purposes as a tax-free reorganization described in Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("Code"), generally with no gain or loss recognized as a consequence of the Reorganization by the Capital Portfolio, the Opportunistic Portfolio and the shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio. Special rules apply for mergers of two Regulated Investment Companies such as the Portfolios. As a condition to the closing of the Reorganization, the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio will receive a legal opinion from counsel to that effect. That opinion will be based upon the facts of the Reorganization, certain representations and warranties made by the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio and certifications received from each of the Portfolios and certain of their service providers.

Immediately prior to the Reorganization, the Opportunistic Portfolio will pay a dividend or dividends which, together with all previous dividends, will have the effect of distributing to its shareholders all of the Opportunistic Portfolio's investment company taxable income, if any, for taxable years ending on or prior to the Closing Date (computed without regard to any deduction for dividends paid) and all of its net capital gain, if any, realized in taxable years ending on or prior to the Closing Date (after reduction for any available capital loss carryforwards). Such dividends will be included in the taxable income of the Opportunistic Portfolio's shareholders.

As of October 31, 2012, the Opportunistic Portfolio had an unused capital loss carryover of approximately $1.45 million. Capital loss carryovers are considered valuable because they can reduce a Portfolios' future taxable income and thus reduce the taxable amount distributed to Portfolio shareholders.

The proposed Reorganization will affect the use of these capital loss carryovers in two respects. The first concerns the "sharing" of them with the shareholders of the Capital Portfolio. If there were no Reorganization, these capital loss carryovers would inure solely to the benefit of the shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio. If the Reorganization occurs, the capital loss carryovers (subject to the limitations described below) to the resulting reorganized Capital Portfolio. That means that any resulting tax benefits inure to all shareholders of the resulting reorganized Capital Portfolio (i.e., both pre-Reorganization shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio and post-Reorganization shareholders of the Capital Portfolio).

The second manner in which the Reorganization will affect the use of the capital loss carryover and built-in losses concerns certain limitations imposed under the Code with respect to the use of these losses in connection with a corporate acquisition. Very generally, when more than 50% of the stock of a "loss corporation" is acquired, the Code imposes various limitations on the use of loss carryovers following the acquisition. The amount of such loss carryovers that can be used each year to offset post-acquisition income is generally limited to an amount equal to the "federal long-term tax-exempt rate" (the applicable rate for January of 2013 was 2.84%) multiplied by the value of the old "loss corporation's" equity. Furthermore, capital losses incurred prior to the enactment of the RIC Modernization Act of 2010 ("RIC Modernization Act"), may generally be carried forward for only eight years in the case of regulated investment companies. All of the capital loss carryforwards in the present case were incurred prior to the enactment of the RIC Modernization Act. Here, based on the market values of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio as of December 31, 2012, the Capital Portfolio would be subject to these limitations on the use of its capital loss carryforwards. However, which Portfolio will be subject to the limitations on the use of capital loss carryforwards will depend on the facts at the time of the Closing Date. As of October 31, 2012, the Capital Portfolio did not have any unused capital loss carryovers.

If these limitations were imposed on the Opportunistic Portfolio, based on its value as of December 31, 2012, the limitations would result in forfeiture of approximately $329 thousand of capital loss carryforwards. However, there is no assurance that such losses would have been used even in the absence of the Reorganization. In addition, the shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio would be taxed on their share of any distributed taxable gains after the Reorganization, including those gains attributable to unrealized gains of the Capital Portfolio, if any, at the time of the Reorganization.

You should consult your tax advisor regarding the effect, if any, of the proposed Reorganization in light of your individual circumstances. Since the foregoing discussion only relates to the federal income tax consequences of the Reorganization, you should also consult your tax advisor as to state and other local tax consequences, if any, of the Reorganization.

Comparison of Rights of Shareholders

Both the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolios are series of New Century Portfolios, which is organized as a Massachusetts business trust. The Opportunistic Portfolio and Capital Portfolio are governed by the same Declarations of Trust and By-Laws.

Boards of Trustees

The Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio have the same Boards of Trustees. For information regarding the Board of Trustees, please refer to the SAI for New Century Portfolios dated March 1, 2012. Generally, under the Declarations of Trust and By-Laws of the Trust, the Board has flexibility and broad authority to act. Massachusetts law also promotes ease of administration, and the Trust is operated under laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The Trustees of New Century Portfolios have fiduciary obligations to act with due care and in the interest of the Opportunistic Portfolio and its shareholders of the Capital Portfolio. The Trustees of the Trust are generally not liable to the respective entity absent willful misfeasance, bad faith, gross negligence or reckless disregard of a Trustee's duties. Furthermore, the Trust's Declaration of Trust permits indemnification of such Trustees except in instances of willful misfeasance, gross negligence, or reckless disregard of a Trustee's duties. Trustees of the Trust may amend governing documents without shareholder approval except in certain identical circumstances.

Shareholder Matters

Shareholder liability is generally limited for shareholders of the Trust. The Capital Portfolio shall not impose a requirement for shareholder approval of a proposed merger or reorganization of a Fund unless required by the 1940 Act. Shareholder approval may be required, however, under the federal securities laws.

Neither the Capital Portfolio nor the Opportunistic Portfolio hold annual shareholder meetings. Each Fund is subject to requirements of the 1940 Act with respect to certain matters requiring shareholder votes. Other than meetings called by Trustees of New Century Portfolios in accordance with the Declaration of Trust, they may be called upon the written request of shareholders owning at least 25% of the outstanding shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio entitled to vote. Other than special meetings called by the Trustees of the Trust or by the Trust's President or Secretary in accordance with the By-Laws of the Trust, meetings of the shareholders of the Capital Portfolio may be called for any purpose deemed necessary or desirable upon the written request of the shareholders holding at least 10% of the outstanding shares of the Capital Portfolio entitled to vote at such meeting, provided that (1) such request shall state the purposes of such meeting and the matters proposed to be acted on, and (2) the shareholders requesting such meeting shall have paid to the Trust the reasonably estimated cost of preparing and mailing the notice thereof, which the Secretary of the Trust shall determine and specify to such shareholders. The quorum requirements for shareholder meetings of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio are identical.

Under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, shareholders of the Portfolios do not have appraisal rights in connection with a combination or acquisition of the assets of another fund.

The foregoing is only a summary of certain characteristics of the operations of the Opportunistic Portfolio and the Capital Portfolio, their relevant corporate governance documents and relevant state law. The foregoing is not a complete description of the documents cited. Shareholders should refer to the provisions of such documents and state laws governing each Fund for a more thorough description.

INFORMATION ABOUT MANAGEMENT OF THE PORTFOLIOS

Investment Adviser

Weston Financial Group, Inc. (the “Adviser”), located at 100 William Street, Suite 200, Wellesley, MA 02481-3902, serves as the investment adviser to each Portfolio under separate investment advisory agreements (collectively the “Advisory Agreements”). The Advisory Agreements provide that the Adviser will furnish continuous investment advisory and management services to the Portfolios. The Adviser was organized in 1981 as a registered investment adviser. On August 31, 2005, the Adviser became a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Washington Trust Company; a Rhode Island chartered trust company. The Adviser provides investment management services to individuals and as of December 31, 2012, had approximately $1.7 billion under management.

The Adviser manages the investments of the Portfolios, subject to policies adopted by the Trust’s Board of Trustees. The Adviser pays the salaries and fees of all officers and trustees of the Trust who are also officers, directors or employees of the Adviser. The Trust pays the salaries and fees of all other trustees of the Trust. For its services to the Capital and Opportunistic Portfolios, the Adviser receives a fee, computed daily and payable monthly, at the annualized rate of 1.00% of each Portfolio’s average daily net assets for the first $100 million in assets and 0.75% of the net assets exceeding that amount. During the fiscal year ended October 31, 2012, the Capital Portfolio and Opportunistic Portfolio paid the Adviser fees at the rate of 1.00% and 1.00% respectively, of each Portfolio’s average daily net assets.

A discussion regarding the basis for the Board of Trustees’ approval of each Advisory Agreement is available in the Trust’s Annual Report to shareholders for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2012.

The Adviser also serves as the Portfolios’ administrator under an agreement with the Trust on behalf of each Portfolio (the “Administration Agreement”). The Administration Agreement provides that the Adviser will furnish the Portfolios with office space, and with any ordinary clerical and bookkeeping services not furnished by the custodian, transfer agent or distributor. The Board of Trustees approved the Administration Agreement. As compensation for its services as administrator, the Adviser receives a certain fee each month to cover the salaries and expenses of the personnel who perform the administrative duties.

Pursuant to an Operating Expense Agreement, the Adviser has agreed contractually to waive or limit fees or to assume other expenses of the Capital Portfolio, if any, so that, on an annualized basis, the Total Net Annual Operating Expenses (other than taxes, interest, litigation, dividends and interest expense on securities sold short, extraordinary expenses, brokerage and other transaction expenses relating to the purchase or sale of portfolio investments, and Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses (as interpreted by the SEC from time to time)) do not exceed 1.50% for shares. In addition, pursuant to the Operating Expense Agreement, the Capital Portfolio and the Adviser have agreed that the Capital Portfolio may reimburse the Adviser for the fees it reduced or limited and other expenses assumed and paid by the Adviser pursuant to the Operating Expense Agreement during any of the prior three fiscal years, provided that, among other things, reimbursement to be made to the Adviser does not cause Total Net Annual Operating Expenses (excluding Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses) of the Portfolio to exceed the limits stated above and the Board of New Century Portfolios has approved in advance such reimbursement to the Adviser.

Information About the Adviser

Information as of December 31, 2012 about the principals and officers of Weston Financial Group, Inc., including their principal occupations, is set forth in Appendix F.

Required Vote

Approval of the Reorganization Agreement will require the affirmative vote of a "majority" of the outstanding voting securities of the Opportunistic Portfolio, as defined in the 1940 Act. See "Voting Information."

THE BOARD, INCLUDING ALL OF THE INDEPENDENT TRUSTEES, HAS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDED APPROVAL OF THE REORGANIZATION AGREEMENT.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE TRUST UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT THE SHAREHOLDERS VOTE "FOR" THIS PROPOSAL.

OTHER BUSINESS

The Board does not intend to present any other business at the Special Meeting. If, however, any other matters are properly brought before the Special Meeting, the persons named in the accompanying Proxy Card will vote thereon in accordance with their judgment. The nature of any other matters that might be presented to the Special Meeting will be limited by the Declaration of the Trust and the Bylaws of the Trust. The Trustees are authorized to vote on any other matters that may come before the Special Meeting as appropriate.

VOTING INFORMATION

This Proxy Statement/Prospectus is furnished in connection with a solicitation of proxies by the Board to be used at the Special Meeting. This Proxy Statement/Prospectus, along with a Notice of the Special Meeting and a proxy card, is first being mailed to shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio on or about January 31, 2013. Only Opportunistic shareholders of record as of the close of business on the Record Date, January 15, 2013, will be entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Special Meeting. If the enclosed form of proxy card is properly executed and returned in time to be voted at the Special Meeting, the proxies named therein will vote the shares represented by the proxy in accordance with the instructions marked thereon. Unmarked but properly executed proxy cards will be voted FOR each Proposal and FOR any other matters deemed appropriate.

A proxy may be revoked at any time on or before the Special Meeting by written notice to the Secretary of the Opportunistic Portfolio at the address on the cover of this Proxy Statement/Prospectus or by attending and voting at the Special Meeting. Unless revoked, all valid and executed proxies will be voted in accordance with the specifications thereon or, in the absence of such specifications, for approval of each of the Proposals.

Proxy Solicitation

It is expected that the solicitation of proxies will be primarily by mail and by telephone. Supplemental solicitations may be made by mail or by telephone by officers and representatives of the Opportunistic Portfolio, the Adviser and their affiliates. It is anticipated that banks, broker-dealers and other institutions will be requested to forward proxy materials to beneficial owners and to obtain authorization for the execution of proxies. The Adviser may, upon request, reimburse banks, broker-dealers and other institutions for their expenses in forwarding proxy materials to beneficial owners. The Adviser will bear the costs of proxy solicitation. The Adviser has retained Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. (“Broadridge”) as the tabulator for the proxies.

As the Special Meeting date approaches, certain shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio may receive a telephone call from a representative of the Opportunistic Portfolio, the Adviser or their affiliates if their votes have not yet been received. Proxies that are obtained telephonically will be recorded in accordance with the procedures described below. The Board believes that these procedures are reasonably designed to ensure that both the identity of the shareholder casting the vote and the voting instructions of the shareholder are accurately determined.

In all cases where a telephonic proxy is solicited, the Opportunistic Portfolio, or the Adviser representative is required to ask for each shareholder’s full name and address, or the zip code or tax identification number, and to confirm that the shareholder has received the proxy materials in the mail. If the shareholder is a corporation or other entity, the Opportunistic Portfolio, or the Adviser’s representative are required to ask for the person’s title and confirmation that the person is authorized to direct the voting of the shares. If the information solicited agrees with the information provided to Opportunistic Portfolio, or the Adviser, then the Opportunistic Portfolio, or Adviser representatives have the responsibility to explain the process, read the Proposals listed on the proxy card and ask for the shareholder’s instructions on the Proposal. Although the Opportunistic Portfolio, and the Adviser’s representative are permitted to answer questions about the process, he or she is not permitted to recommend to the shareholder how to vote, other than to read any recommendation set forth in this Proxy Statement/Prospectus. The Opportunistic Portfolio, and the Adviser will record the shareholder’s instructions on the card. Within 72 hours, the shareholder will be sent a letter to confirm his or her vote and asking the shareholder to call Broadridge immediately if his or her instructions are not correctly reflected in the confirmation.

Vote Required

Approval of the Reorganization Agreement will require the affirmative vote of a majority of the outstanding voting securities of the Opportunistic Portfolio. The vote of a majority of the outstanding voting securities means the lesser of the vote (1) of 67% or more of the voting securities present at the Special Meeting, if the holders of more than 50% of the outstanding voting securities are present or represented by proxy; or (2) of more than 50% of the outstanding voting securities of the Opportunistic Portfolio. Shareholders of the Opportunistic Portfolio are entitled to one vote for each share. Fractional shares are entitled to proportional voting rights.

Quorum

The holders of a majority of the shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio that are outstanding at the close of business on the Record Date and are present in person or represented by proxy will constitute a quorum for the Meeting. However, the mere presence of a quorum at the Meeting may not be sufficient to approve the Proposal.

Adjournments

If at the time any session of the Special Meeting is called to order and a quorum is not present, in person or by proxy, the persons named as proxies may vote those proxies that have been received to adjourn the Special Meeting to a later date. In the event that a quorum is present but sufficient votes in favor of the proposal have not been received, the persons named as proxies may propose one or more adjournments of the Special Meeting to permit further solicitation of proxies with respect to the proposal. All such adjournments will require the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast. The persons named as proxies will vote those proxies which they are entitled to vote in favor of the proposal, in favor of such an adjournment, and will vote those proxies required to be voted against the proposal, against any such adjournment.

In determining whether to adjourn the Special Meeting with respect to the Proposal, the following factors may be considered: the percentage of votes actually cast, the percentage of negative votes actually cast, the nature of any further solicitation and the information to be provided to shareholders with respect to the reasons for the solicitation. Generally, votes cast in favor of the Proposals will be voted in favor of adjournment while votes cast against the Proposals will be voted against adjournment. The persons named as proxies will vote upon such adjournment after consideration of the best interests of all shareholders. As stated below, broker non-votes will be excluded from the denominator of the calculation of the number of votes required to approve any Proposal to adjourn a meeting. A vote may be taken on a Proposal specified herein prior to any such adjournment if sufficient votes for the approval of the proposal have been received.

Effect of Abstentions and Broker “Non-Votes”

For purposes of determining the presence of a quorum for transacting business at the Special Meeting, executed proxies marked as abstentions and broker “non-votes” (that is, proxies from brokers or nominees indicating that such persons have not received instructions from the beneficial owner or other persons entitled to vote shares on a particular matter with respect to which the brokers or nominees do not have discretionary power) will be treated as shares that are present for quorum purposes but which have not been voted. Notwithstanding the foregoing, broker non-votes will be excluded from the denominator of the calculation of the number of votes required to approve any Proposal to adjourn a meeting. Accordingly, abstentions and broker non-votes will effectively be a vote against the proposals, for which the required vote is a percentage of the outstanding voting securities and will have no effect on a vote for adjournment.

Share Information

There were 1,163,318.062 shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio outstanding as of the close of business on the Record Date. As of December 31, 2012, to the knowledge of the Portfolios, the following Principal Holders owned, either beneficially or of record, 5% or more of the outstanding shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio:

Name and Address of Owner	Percentage of Fund
TD AMERITRADE, Inc. (Formerly Fiserv Trust Company) 1005 North Ameritrade Place Bellevue, NE 68005	50.02%

As of the Record Date, each of the Trustees and executive officers owned individually, and owned collectively as a group less than 1% of the outstanding shares of the Opportunistic Portfolio.

For purposes of the 1940 Act, any person who owns directly or through one or more controlled companies more than 25% of the voting securities of a company is presumed to “control” such company. Under this definition, there were no control persons of the Opportunistic Portfolio as of the Record Date.

The votes of the shareholders of the Capital Portfolio are not being solicited since their approval or consent is not necessary for the Reorganization to take place.

LEGAL MATTERS

Certain legal matters concerning the issuance of shares of the Capital Portfolio will be passed upon by Greenberg Traurig, LLP, 2700 Two Commerce Square, 2001 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 19103.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE OPPORTUNISTIC PORTFOLIO, INCLUDING ALL OF THE INDEPENDENT TRUSTEES, RECOMMEND APPROVAL OF THE REORGANIZATION AGREEMENT INCLUDING THE SALE OF ALL OF THE ASSETS OF THE OPPORTUNISTIC PORTFOLIO TO THE CAPITAL PORTFOLIO, THE LIQUIDATION OF THE OPPORTUNISTIC PORTFOLIO, AND THE DISTRIBUTION OF SHARES OF THE OPPORTUNISTIC PORTFOLIO TO SHAREHOLDERS OF THE CAPITAL PORTFOLIO, AND ANY UNMARKED PROXIES WITHOUT INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CONTRARY WILL BE VOTED IN FAVOR OF APPROVAL OF THE REORGANIZATION AGREEMENT.

APPENDIX A – FURTHER COMPARISON OF INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES, STRATEGIES AND RISKS

The following sections provide more information about each Fund’s principal investment strategies and risks and about other investment, investment techniques and risks that may be applicable to the Portfolios. For a complete description of the Fund’s principal investment strategies and principal risks please read the information provided under “Comparison of Investment Objectives, Principal Investment Strategies and Risks of Investing in the Portfolios” in this Proxy Statement/Prospectus.

More Information About the Portfolios’ Principal Investment Strategies and Risks

A summary description of each Fund’s principal investment strategies and risks are included the Proxy Statement/Prospectus. Below you will find additional information about each Fund’s investment strategies and risks.

Opportunistic Portfolio

The Opportunistic Portfolio seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing primarily in shares of registered investment companies, including ETFs, that emphasize investments in equity securities such as common stocks, preferred stocks or securities convertible into stocks (domestic and foreign), in fixed income securities that seek appreciation such as high-yield, lower rated debt securities (domestic or foreign), or in other registered investment companies that seek to achieve growth.

The Opportunistic Portfolio will select for its portfolio investment companies that seek to achieve above-average growth through investment in equity securities of companies expected to appreciate as a result of growing or strong earnings, or the growth or advancement of the company’s business, products, etc. For example, the portion of the Opportunistic Portfolio that is invested in equity securities may be invested in investment companies that focus on capital appreciation, aggressive growth, growth, growth and income, equity income, small-capitalization, medium-capitalization and foreign equities. The Opportunistic Portfolio may also invest in an investment company that seeks appreciation by investing in a portfolio of debt securities, including high-yield, lower rated debt securities or a portfolio of equity securities that is concentrated in a particular industry or style sector. The Opportunistic Portfolio uses a flexible approach to selecting investments and is not limited by an underlying fund’s investment style (such as growth or value), its market capitalization range (such as small, middle or large capitalization companies) or any specific average weighted maturity range (such as short-term, intermediate-term or long-term fixed income securities).

Capital Portfolio

The Capital Portfolio seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing primarily in shares of registered investment companies, including ETFs, that emphasize investments in equity securities such as common stocks, preferred stocks or securities convertible into stocks and bonds (domestic and foreign).

The Capital Portfolio will diversify its equity investments by investing primarily in investment companies that focus on different segments of the equity markets. For example, the Capital Portfolio may be invested in investment companies that emphasize growth, growth and income, equity income, small-capitalization, aggressive, and foreign equities. The Capital Portfolio uses a flexible approach in selecting investments and is not limited by an underlying fund’s investment style (such as growth or value) or its market capitalization range (such as small, middle or large capitalization companies).

Principal Investment Risks of both the Opportunistic and Capital Portfolios.

Management Risk. The Adviser’s judgments about the attractiveness, value and potential appreciation of particular asset class or individual security in which the Portfolio invests may prove to be incorrect and there is no guarantee that underlying funds will perform as anticipated. The value of an underlying fund can be more volatile than the market as a whole, and the Adviser’s intrinsic value-oriented approach may fail to produce the intended results.

Equity Risk. Overall stock market risks may affect the value of the Portfolio. Factors such as domestic economic growth and market conditions, interest rate levels and political events affect the securities markets. When the value of the underlying fund decreases, your investment in the Portfolio decreases.

Market Capitalization Risk. Investment companies may be categorized as having a small, medium, or large capitalization market value. The underlying funds in which the Portfolio invests, as well as the Portfolio itself, may invest in small and mid-capitalization companies, which generally have higher potential risks than large capitalization companies. Small and mid-capitalization companies may be more volatile than, and fluctuate independently of, broad stock market indices such as the S&P 500[®] Composite Index.

Investment Company and ETF Risk. Investments by the Portfolio in other investment companies, including ETFs, will expose investors to the risk that the underlying fund manager may change objectives which may or may not parallel the investment direction of the Portfolio. The Portfolios’ Management has no control over the managers or investments of underlying funds. In addition, the price movement of an ETF may not correlate to the underlying index and may result in a loss. Further, investments in other investment companies subject the investor to fees and expenses charged by such other investment companies, including ETFs, referred to as Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses as shown in the Annual Fund Operating Expenses table.

Foreign Investing Risk. The Portfolio may utilize global macro investment strategies by investing in investment companies that invest primarily in foreign securities. Foreign investments may be riskier than U.S. investments because of factors such as unstable international political and economic conditions, currency fluctuations, foreign controls on investment and currency exchange, withholding taxes, a lack of adequate company information, less liquid and more volatile markets, a lack of government regulation, and legal systems or market practices that permit inequitable treatment of minority and/or non-domestic investors. If an underlying fund invests primarily in a particular country or region, it may be adversely affected by the above factors or events particular to that country or region.

Emerging Market Securities Risk. The Portfolio may invest in investment companies that invest in foreign securities issued by companies located in developing or emerging countries. Investing in emerging market securities imposes risks different from, or greater than, risks of investing in foreign developed countries. These risks include: smaller market capitalization of securities markets, which may suffer periods of relative illiquidity; significant price volatility; restrictions on foreign investment; and possible repatriation of investment income and capital.

Currency Risk. The Portfolio may invest in foreign securities or take a thematic approach that forecasts a change in the valuation of the U.S. Dollar and as a result would expose the Portfolio to currency risk which is also commonly referred to as exchange rate risk. Exchange rate risk arises when there is a change in the price of one currency in relation to another. For example, if the Japanese Yen appreciates relative to the U.S. Dollar, an investment denominated in the Yen will be impacted by both the return of the underlying investment as well as the Yen's appreciation versus the U.S. Dollar.

Additional Principal Risk of the Opportunistic Portfolio Only

Credit / High-Yield Risk. The Portfolio is subject to credit risk. The Portfolio may lose money if the issuer of a fixed income security or distressed security cannot meet its financial obligations or goes bankrupt. Distressed securities, such as high-yield, lower-rated debt securities (i.e. "junk bonds") are considered to be more speculative than higher quality fixed income securities. Distressed securities are more susceptible to credit risk than investment-grade securities, which may be especially true during periods of economic uncertainty or during economic downturns.

Diversification. Some of the underlying funds in which the Portfolio may invest are classified as non-diversified funds for purposes of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. This means that the underlying fund may invest a larger portion of its assets in a small number of securities. This may cause the market action of the underlying fund's larger security positions to have a greater impact on the fund's net asset value per share, which could lead to increased volatility

Comparison of Fundamental Investment Restrictions

Fundamental investment policies may only be changed by a vote of a Fund's shareholders, while a Fund's Board generally has the ability to change non-fundamental investment policies without a shareholder vote. Below is a side-by-side comparison of the Portfolios' fundamental investment restrictions.

Investment Restriction	Opportunistic Portfolio	Capital Portfolio
Diversification	As to 75% of the Portfolio's total assets, the Portfolio will not invest more than 5% of its total assets in the securities of any one issuer. (This limitation does not apply to cash and cash items, obligations issued or guaranteed by the United States Government, its agencies or instrumentalities or securities of other investment companies.)	Same
Ownership Limitations	The Portfolio will not invest in any investment company if a purchase of its shares would result in New Century Portfolios and its affiliates owning more than 3% of the total outstanding voting stock of such investment company	Same
Concentration	The Portfolio will not purchase more than 10% of the voting securities, or more than 10% of any class of securities of any issuer. For purposes of this restriction, all outstanding fixed income securities of an issuer are considered as one class.	Same
Investments in Commodities	The Portfolio will not purchase or sell commodities or commodity futures contracts	Same
Making Loans	The Portfolio will not make loans of money or securities, except (i) by the purchase of fixed income obligations in which the Portfolio may invest consistent with its investment objective and policies; or (ii) by investment in repurchase agreements.	Same
Borrowing	The Portfolio will not borrow money, except the Portfolio may borrow from banks (i) for temporary or emergency purposes in an amount not exceeding 5% of the Portfolio's assets or (ii) to meet redemption requests that might otherwise require the untimely disposition of portfolio securities, in an amount up to 33 1/3% of the value of the Portfolio's total assets (including the amount borrowed) valued at market less liabilities (not including the amount borrowed) at the time the borrowing was made. While borrowings exceed 5% of the value of the Portfolio's total assets, the Portfolio will not	Same make additional investments. Interest paid on borrowings will reduce net income

Encumbering Assets	The Portfolio will not pledge, hypothecate, mortgage or otherwise encumber its assets, except in an amount up to 33 1/3% of the value of its net assets but only to secure borrowings for temporary or emergency purposes, such as to effect redemptions.	Same
Investing in Restricted Securities	The Portfolio will not purchase the securities of any issuer, if, as a result, more than 10% of the value of New Century Portfolios' net assets would be invested in securities that are subject to legal or contractual restrictions on resale ("restricted securities"), in securities for which there are no readily available market quotations, in repurchase agreements maturing in more than seven days, or in shares in excess of 1% of an underlying fund's outstanding securities, if all such securities would constitute more than 10% of the Portfolio's net assets.	Same
Senior Securities	The Portfolio will not issue senior securities.	Same
Underwriting Securities	The Portfolio will not engage in the underwriting of securities except insofar as the Portfolio may be deemed an underwriter under the Securities Act of 1933 in disposing of a portfolio security.	Same
Purchasing or Selling Real Estate	The Portfolio will not purchase or sell real estate or interests therein, although it may purchase securities of issuers which engage in real estate operations and securities which are secured by real estate or interests therein.	Same
Investments for purposes of Exercising Control	The Portfolio will not invest for the purpose of exercising control or management of another company.	Same
Concentration	The Portfolio will not concentrate its investments in any industry other than registered investment companies.	Same
Margin	The Portfolio will not make purchases of securities on "margin".	Same
Investment Objective	The Portfolio will not change the Portfolios' investment objectives.	Same

APPENDIX B – FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The Capital Portfolio will be the accounting survivor of the Reorganization. The Capital Portfolio's most recent financial highlights table can be located in its most recent Shareholder Report, which is incorporated by reference into Part B of this Proxy Statement/Prospectus. Please refer to (i) the pro forma Fees and Expenses included under the heading Comparison of Fees and Expenses in Part A of this Proxy Statement/Prospectus and (ii) the pro forma financial statements in Appendix B of this Proxy Statement/Prospectus to see the projected effect of (i) the change in the investment advisory fees for the Capital Portfolio and (ii) the combination of the assets of the two Portfolios on the expense ratio for the surviving Portfolio following the completion of the Reorganization.

The financial highlights table on the following page is intended to help you understand each Portfolio's financial performance and other financial information for the past five years. Certain information reflects financial results for a single Portfolio share. "Total Return" shows how much an investor in each Portfolio would have earned or lost on an investment in that Portfolio assuming reinvestment of all dividends and distributions. The information for the past five years has been audited by BBD, LLP, the Trust's Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm, whose report, along with each Portfolio's financial statements, are included in the Trust's Annual Report to Shareholders and are incorporated by reference in the Statement of Additional Information, which is available free of charge upon request

APPENDIX B - NOTES TO COMBINING PRO FORMA FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF NEW CENTURY CAPITAL
PORTFOLIO AND NEW CENTURY OPPORTUNISTIC PORTFOLIO
OCTOBER 31, 2012 (Unaudited)

1. Description of the Portfolio

New Century Capital Portfolio is a series of New Century Portfolios organized as a Massachusetts business trust which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “Act”), as amended, as an open-end management investment company. The investment objective of New Century Capital Portfolio is to provide capital growth, with a secondary objective to provide income, while managing risk. New Century Capital Portfolio seeks to achieve its objectives by investing primarily in shares of other registered investment companies that emphasize investments in equities (domestic and foreign).

2. Basis of Combination

New Century Opportunistic Portfolio is a series of New Century Portfolios, an open-end management investment company organized as a Massachusetts business trust and registered under the Act. The accompanying pro forma financial statements are presented to show the effect of the proposed acquisition of New Century Opportunistic Portfolio by New Century Capital Portfolio as if such acquisition had taken place as of November 1, 2012. These statements have been derived from the books and records utilized in calculating daily net asset values at October 31, 2012.

On the pro forma Statement of Operations, certain combined expenses have been adjusted to reflect anticipated contractual changes.

Under the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization (the “Agreement”), the combination of the New Century Capital Portfolio and New Century Opportunistic Portfolio will be accounted for by the method of accounting for tax-free mergers of investment companies. The reorganization involves the transfer of substantially all of the assets and known liabilities of New Century Opportunistic Portfolio to New Century Capital Portfolio in exchange for shares of New Century Capital Portfolio, and the pro-rata distribution of such shares of New Century Capital Portfolio to the shareholders of New Century Opportunistic Portfolio, as provided by the Agreement. New Century Capital Portfolio was determined to be the accounting survivor in the reorganization primarily because the portfolio composition of the combined portfolio is expected to be more like New Century Capital Portfolio’s current portfolio composition as a result of the application of New Century Capital Portfolio’s investment process after the reorganization. Consequently, New Century Capital Portfolio’s performance track record more accurately reflects the results of the investment process that the combined portfolio will utilize after the reorganization. The investment objectives, policies and restrictions, the load structure, the expense ratio (including the contractual expense limitation) and the investment advisory fee of the combined portfolio will be those of New Century Capital Portfolio.

Weston Financial Group, Inc. (the “Adviser”) is the investment adviser to New Century Capital Portfolio. The Adviser, and specifically New Century Capital Portfolio’s portfolio managers, will continue to advise the surviving portfolio. Following the acquisition, New Century Capital Portfolio will be the accounting survivor. In accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the historical cost of investment securities held in New Century Opportunistic will be carried forward to the surviving portfolio and the results of operations for pre-combination periods of the surviving portfolio will not be restated.

The reorganization is intended to qualify as a tax-free reorganization so that shareholders of New Century Opportunistic Portfolio will not recognize any gain or loss through the exchange of shares in the reorganization.

The accompanying pro forma financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements of New Century Capital Portfolio and New Century Opportunistic Portfolio included in their annual report dated October 31, 2012. The following notes refer to the accompanying pro forma financial statements as if the above-mentioned acquisition of New Century Opportunistic Portfolio by New Century Capital Portfolio had taken place as of November 1, 2012.

3. Portfolio Valuation

Investments in shares of other open-end investment companies are valued at their net asset value as reported by such companies. New Century Capital Portfolio may also invest in closed-end investment companies, exchange-traded funds, and to a certain extent, directly in securities when the Adviser deems it appropriate. Investments in closed-end investment companies, exchange-traded funds and direct investments in securities are valued at market prices, as described in the paragraph below. The net asset value as reported by open-end investment companies may be based on fair value pricing; to understand the fair value pricing process used by such companies, consult their most current prospectus.

Investments in securities traded on a national securities exchange or included in NASDAQ are generally valued at the last reported sales price, the closing price or the official closing price; and securities traded in the over-the-counter market and listed securities for which no sale is reported on that date are valued at the last reported bid price. It is expected that fixed income securities will ordinarily be traded in the over-the-counter market. When market quotations are not readily available, fixed income securities may be valued on the basis of prices provided by an independent pricing service. Other assets and securities for which no quotations are readily available or for which quotations the Adviser believes do not reflect market value are valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Adviser under the procedures established by the Board of Trustees, and will be classified as Level 2 or 3 within the fair value hierarchy, depending on the inputs used. Factors in determining portfolio investments subject to fair value determination include, but are not limited to, the following: only a bid price or an asked price is available; the spread between bid and asked prices is substantial; infrequency of sales; thinness of market; the size of reported trades; a temporary lapse in the provision of prices by any reliable pricing source; and actions of the securities or future markets, such as the suspension or limitation of trading. Short-term investments (those with remaining maturities of 60 days or less) may be valued at amortized cost which approximates market value.

GAAP establishes a single authoritative definition of fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Portfolio's investments. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

- Level 1 – quoted prices in active markets for identical securities
- Level 2 – other significant observable inputs
- Level 3 – significant unobservable inputs

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities. The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level of the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement of that security is determined to fall in its entirety is the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The following is a summary of the inputs used to value New Century Capital Portfolio's investments as of October 31, 2012 by security type:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Investment Companies	$ 100,457,000	$ -	$ -	$ 100,457,000
Money Market Funds	473,648	-	-	473,648
Total	$ 100,930,648	$ -	$ -	$ 100,930,648

See the Pro Forma Combined Schedule of Investments for a listing of the securities valued using Level 1. As of October 31, 2012, New Century Capital Portfolio did not have any transfers in and out of any Level. There were no Level 3 securities or derivative instruments held by New Century Capital Portfolio as of October 31, 2012. It is New Century Capital Portfolio's policy to recognize transfers into and out of any Level at the end of the reporting period.

4. Capital Shares

The pro forma net asset value per share assumes the issuance of shares of New Century Capital Portfolio that would have been issued at October 31, 2012, in connection with the proposed reorganization. The number of shares assumed to be issued is equal to the net asset value of shares of New Century Opportunistic Portfolio, as of October 31, 2012, divided by the net asset value per share of New Century Capital Portfolio as of October 31, 2012. The pro forma number of shares outstanding for the combined portfolio consists of the following at October 31, 2012:

4,994,493	778,143	5,772,636

5. Federal Income Taxes

Each Portfolio has elected to be taxed as a "regulated investment company" under the Internal Revenue Code. After the acquisition, New Century Capital Portfolio intends to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interest of its shareholders, by complying with the provision available to certain investment companies, as defined in applicable sections of the Internal Revenue code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from all, or substantially all, Federal income taxes.

The identified cost of investments for the Portfolios is substantially the same for both financial accounting and Federal income tax purposes. The tax cost of investments will remain unchanged for the combined portfolio.

6. Merger Costs - The Adviser of the Portfolios will cover any expenses incurred in connection with the reorganization.

APPENDIX C – HOW TO BUY, SELL AND EXCHANGE SHARES

The information in this Appendix C describes in greater detail certain information about the Capital Portfolio and all other New Century Portfolios.

If you wish to obtain similar information about other New Century Portfolios, you may obtain the Prospectus, SAI, and/or Annual and Semi-Annual Reports and material incorporated by reference without charge by calling New Century Portfolio toll-free at 1-888-639-0102. To request other information about the Opportunistic Portfolio and to make shareholder inquiries, please call your financial intermediary or Opportunistic Portfolio at the number above.

Pricing of Portfolio Shares

The price you pay for a share of a Portfolio is called the Portfolio's net asset value (the "NAV"). Generally, the price you receive upon selling or redeeming a share of a Portfolio is its NAV; except that the redemption proceeds of shares held for less than 30 days from the date of initial purchase is subject to a redemption fee of 2.00% of the redemption proceeds. The NAV is calculated by taking the total value of a Portfolio's assets, subtracting its liabilities, and then dividing by the number of shares that have already been issued. This is a standard calculation, and forms the basis for all transactions involving buying, selling, exchanging or reinvesting shares. The NAV is generally calculated as of the close of trading on the New York Stock Exchange (usually 4:00 p.m. Eastern time) every day the Exchange is open. Your order will be priced at the next NAV calculated after the Portfolios' transfer agent, Ultimus Fund Solutions, LLC ("Ultimus," or the "Transfer Agent"), receives your order in proper form (i.e. all paperwork is completely accurately and signed and dated as appropriate).

The Portfolio's investments are valued based on market value, or where market quotations are not readily available, based on fair value as determined in good faith by the Trust's Board of Trustees. Investments in other open-end registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value as reported daily by such underlying fund. The prospectuses for the underlying funds explain the circumstances under which those registered investment companies will use fair value pricing and the effects of using fair value pricing. Investments in closed-end investment companies, ETFs, and direct investments in securities are valued at market prices. Investments in such securities that are traded on a national securities exchange are generally valued at the last reported sales price or the official closing price. Securities traded in the over-the-counter market and listed securities for which no sale is reported on that date are valued at the last reported bid price. The Portfolios may use pricing services to determine market value.

Purchasing Shares

You may purchase shares of the Portfolio directly from Weston Securities Corporation (the "Distributor"), the Trust's principal underwriter, or through brokers or dealers who are authorized by the Distributor to sell shares of the Portfolios. Shares of the Portfolio are also offered through financial supermarkets, advisers and consultants, and other investment professionals. There are no sales charges in connection with purchasing shares of the Portfolio. Investment professionals who offer shares may require the payment of fees from their individual clients. If you invest through a third party, the policies and fees may be different from those described in this Prospectus. For example, third parties may charge transaction fees or set different minimum investment amounts. In addition, you may be required by the third party to address any questions or comments concerning your account to such third party.

Telephone and Wire Transactions

Automated transactions that will be repeated on a regular basis, such as a monthly investment program, can be implemented by a shareholder using Automated Clearing House (“ACH”) transactions. Such transactions must be established to occur automatically and would not be used for a one time transaction. Also, only bank accounts held at domestic financial institutions that are ACH members can be used for telephone transactions. It takes 15 calendar days after receipt of your bank account information by the Portfolio to establish this feature. Purchases by ACH transfer may not be made until the feature is established. You are automatically granted telephone transaction privileges unless you decline them on your Account Application or by calling us toll-free at (888) 264-8578. With respect to purchases made by telephone, the Portfolio and their agents will employ reasonable procedures to confirm that instructions communicated by telephone are genuine. Such procedures may include, among others, requiring some form of personal identification prior to acting upon telephone instructions, providing written confirmation of all such transactions, and/or tape recording all telephone instructions. If reasonable procedures are followed, the Portfolio or their agents will not be liable for any loss, cost or expense for acting upon an investor’s telephone instructions or for any unauthorized telephone transactions.

If you purchase your initial shares by wire, the Transfer Agent first must have received a completed Account Application and issued an account number to you. The account number must be included in the wiring instructions set forth above.

The Transfer Agent must receive your Account Application to establish shareholder privileges and to verify your account information. Payment of redemption proceeds may be delayed and taxes may be withheld unless the Portfolio receive a properly completed and executed Account Application.

Shares purchased by wire will be purchased at the NAV next determined after the Transfer Agent receives your wired funds and all required information is provided in the wire instructions.

Exchange Privilege. As a convenience, the Portfolio’s shareholders may exchange all or part of their investment in the Portfolio for the Cash Reserve Fund – Prime Series (hereinafter Cash Reserve Fund), a money market fund advised by Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. (and not by the Adviser) that invests in a diversified portfolio of high quality money market instruments.

THIS PROSPECTUS DOES NOT OFFER THE SHARES OF THE CASH RESERVE FUND.

Additional Purchase Information

The Portfolio may hold redemption proceeds until the proceeds used to purchase shares have been collected (e.g., your check has cleared, or your ACH payments have been received), but in no event will they be held for more than 10 business days.

If you fail to provide and certify to the accuracy of your Social Security Number or Taxpayer Identification Number, the Portfolio will be required to withhold 28% of all dividends, distributions and payments, including redemption proceeds.

Please note that the Portfolio is offered and sold only to persons residing in the United States, including the U.S. Virgin Islands. Applications will only be accepted if they contain a U.S. address. All purchases must be made in U.S. dollars and checks must be drawn on U.S. banks. No cash, credit cards or third party checks will be accepted. A fee may be charged against your account for any payment check returned to the Transfer Agent or for any incomplete ACH or other electronic funds transfer, or for insufficient funds, stop payment, closed account or other reasons. You will also be responsible for any losses suffered by the Portfolio as a result. The Portfolio reserves the right to reject any purchase order for Portfolio shares.

Your bank account will be debited as early as the same day we receive your payment in the amount of your check; no additional amount will be added to the total. The transaction will appear on your bank statement. Your original check will be destroyed once processed, and you will not receive your cancelled check back. If we cannot post the transaction electronically, you authorize us to present an image copy of your check for payment.

Customer Identification Program. Federal regulations require that the Trust obtain certain personal information about you when opening a new account. As a result, the Trust must obtain the following information for each person that opens a new account:

- Name;
- Date of birth (for individuals);
- Residential or business street address (although post office boxes are still permitted for mailing); and
- Social Security number, taxpayer identification number, or other identifying number.

You may also be asked to provide a copy of your driver's license, passport, or other identifying document in order to verify your identity. In addition, it may be necessary to verify your identity by cross-referencing your identification information with a consumer report or other electronic database. Additional information may be required to open accounts for corporations and other entities.

After an account is opened, the Trust may restrict your ability to purchase additional shares until your identity is verified. The Trust also may close your account or take other appropriate action if they are unable to verify your identity within a reasonable period of time.

If your account is closed for this reason, your shares will be redeemed at the NAV next calculated after the account is closed.

Automatic Investment Program. Call us to set up an automatic investment program. To participate in the Automatic Investment Program you must make an initial purchase of at least $500 in a Portfolio. The $500 minimum is specific to each Portfolio. Under the program you can have money transferred automatically from your checking account to a Portfolio each month to buy additional shares. There is a minimum subsequent investment amount of $50 for purchasing additional shares under the same program. The market value of the Portfolio's shares may fluctuate and a systematic investment program such as this will not assure a profit or protect against a loss. You may discontinue the program at any time by notifying the Transfer Agent or the Distributor, by mail or phone.

Purchase Restrictions. The Portfolio reserves the right in its sole discretion (i) to waive or lower investment minimums, (ii) to accept initial purchases by telephone or mailgram, (iii) to waive redemption fees on employer sponsored retirement accounts, and (iv) to refuse any purchase or exchange order, including purchase orders from any investor who engages in excessive purchases and redemptions in their account.

These actions will be taken, at Management's sole discretion, when they are deemed to be in the best interest of a Portfolio.

As explained under "How to Exchange Shares," shareholders in the Portfolio may exchange all or part of their investment for shares of the Cash Reserve Fund. If you have any questions about redeeming shares of the Cash Reserve Fund, please call (888) 264-8578.

Additional Redemption Information

Payment of Redemption Proceeds. You may redeem shares on any day that the Portfolio is open for business. Your shares will be sold at the next NAV per share calculated after the Transfer Agent receives your order in proper form. A 2.00% redemption fee is imposed on any shares redeemed within 30 days of their initial purchase. This redemption fee applies to all shareholders and accounts; however each Portfolio reserves the right to waive such redemption fees on employer sponsored retirement accounts. The redemption fee is equal to 2.00% of the redemption proceeds; however, no redemption fee is imposed on the exchange of shares between the various Portfolios of the Trust, the redemption of shares representing reinvested dividends or capital gains distributions, or on amounts representing the capital appreciation of shares. In determining the amount of any redemption fee, the shares having been held the longest in the account are considered redeemed first. Redemption fees are retained by the Portfolio. This redemption fee is meant to prevent short-term trading in the Portfolio and to offset any transaction costs and other costs associated with short-term trading.

Your order will be processed promptly and you will receive the proceeds within five business days after receiving your properly completed request. Payment of redemption proceeds for shares of the Portfolios when requesting a wire payment will normally be made in federal funds on the next business day.

If you sell your shares through a broker or dealer, financial supermarket or other investment professional, it is such other entities' responsibility to transmit the redemption request to the Trust in a timely fashion. Any loss to you resulting from the failure to transmit a redemption request in a timely fashion must be settled between you and the other entity.

Before selling recently purchased shares, please note that if the Transfer Agent has not yet collected payment for the shares you are selling, it may delay sending the proceeds for up to 10 business days. This procedure is intended to protect the Portfolio and their shareholders from loss.

The Transfer Agent will wire redemption proceeds only to the bank and account designated on the Account Application or in written instructions (with signatures guaranteed) subsequently received by the Transfer Agent, and only if the bank is a member of the Federal Reserve System. Your instructions should include: the name, address, and telephone number of the bank where you want the proceeds sent; the Federal Reserve ABA Routing number; and our bank account number.

The Custodian currently charges a $9.00 fee for each payment by wire of redemption proceeds, which will be deducted from your redemption proceeds.

If the dollar or share amount requested to be redeemed is greater than the current value of your account, your entire account balance will be redeemed. If you choose to redeem your account in full, any automatic service currently in effect for the account will be terminated unless you indicate otherwise in writing.

Medallion Signature Guarantees. A medallion signature guarantee of each owner is required to redeem shares in the following situations: (i) if you change ownership on your account; (ii) when you want the redemption proceeds sent to a different address than that registered on the account; (iii) if the proceeds are to be made payable to someone other than the account's owner(s); (iv) any redemption transmitted by federal wire transfer to a bank other than your bank of record; and (v) if a change of address request has been received by the Transfer Agent within the last 15 days. In addition, signature guarantees are required for all redemptions of shares having a value of more than $50,000 from any shareholder account.

Signature guarantees are designed to protect both you and the Portfolio from fraud. When a Portfolio requires a signature guarantee, a medallion signature guarantee must be provided. A medallion signature guarantee may be obtained from a domestic bank or trust company, broker, dealer, clearing agency, savings association, or other financial institution which is participating in a medallion program recognized by the Securities Transfer Association. The three recognized medallion programs are Securities Transfer Agents Medallion Program ("STAMP"), Stock Exchanges Medallion Program ("SEMP") and New York Stock Exchange, Inc. Medallion Guarantee ("NYSE MSP"). Signature guarantees from financial institutions which are not participating in one of these programs will not be accepted. Notaries Public cannot provide signature guarantees.

Corporate, Trust and Other Accounts. Redemption requests from corporate, trust and institutional accounts, and executors, administrators and guardians, require documents in addition to those described above, evidencing the authority of the officers, trustees or others. In order to avoid delays in processing redemption requests for these accounts, you should call New Century at (888) 264-8578 before making the redemption request to determine what additional documents are required.

Transfer of Ownership. In order to change the account registration or transfer ownership of an account, additional documents will be required. In order to avoid delays in processing these requests, you should call New Century at (888) 264-8578 before making your request to determine what additional documents are required.

Redemption Initiated by the Portfolio. If your account balance falls below $500, the Portfolio may ask you to increase your balance. If your account balance is still below $500 after 30 days, the Portfolio may close your account and send you the proceeds. This minimum balance requirement does not apply to IRAs and other tax-sheltered investment accounts. The right of redemption by the Portfolio will not apply if the value of your account drops below $500 because of market performance. No redemption fee is imposed upon redemptions initiated by the Portfolio.

Suspension of Redemption Rights. The Board of Trustees may suspend the right of redemption or postpone the date of payment during any period when:

- Trading on the New York Stock Exchange is restricted as determined by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission,
- Such Exchange is closed for other than weekends and holidays,
- The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has by order permitted such suspension, or
- An emergency, as defined by rules of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, exists during which time the sale of portfolio securities or valuation of securities held by the Portfolio are not reasonably practicable.

Redemptions In-Kind. The Portfolio reserves the right to pay redemption proceeds by a distribution in-kind of portfolio securities (rather than cash). In the event that the Portfolio makes an in-kind distribution, you could incur brokerage and transaction charges when converting the securities to cash. You could be required to comply with normal procedures to redeem shares of an underlying fund and could experience normal processing delays. In-kind redemptions will be made when the Board of Trustees determines that it would be detrimental to a Portfolio to make payment in cash.

Frequent Purchases and Redemptions of Shares

The Portfolio is intended as long-term investment vehicles and are not intended to provide a means of speculating on short-term market movements. The Board of Trustees of the Trust has adopted policies and procedures to detect and prevent frequent and abusive trading practices by shareholders. Such frequent trading is commonly referred to as “market timing”. Market timing may disrupt portfolio management strategies, harm the performance of a Portfolio, dilute the value of a Portfolio’s shares held by long-term shareholders, increase brokerage and administrative costs, and generate taxable consequences by causing a Portfolio to sell securities to meet redemption requests. It is the policy of the Trust not to permit market timing, by any shareholder, in its Portfolio.

The Trust currently considers excessive trading to involve more than six purchases followed by redemptions (or vice versa) within one calendar year. If such market timing is detected within an account (or accounts) held by a shareholder, it is the policy of the Trust to issue warnings to the account and reject future purchases from such shareholder. If the account is subsequently redeemed, the shareholder will not be permitted to make future purchases or open new accounts.

In an effort to deter market timing or other abusive trading activities, the Trust has adopted a redemption fee of 2.00%, as discussed under “Additional Redemption Information”. This redemption fee is imposed on any shares redeemed within 30 days of their initial purchase and applies to all shareholders and accounts; however each Portfolio reserves the right to waive redemption fees on employer sponsored retirement accounts. In addition, this redemption fee is equal to 2.00% of the amount being redeemed; however, no redemption fee is imposed on the exchange of shares between the various Portfolios of the Trust, the redemption of shares representing reinvested dividends or capital gains distributions, or on amounts representing the capital appreciation of shares. In determining the amount of any redemption fee, the shares having been held the longest in the account are considered redeemed first. Redemption fees are retained by the applicable Portfolio. This redemption fee is meant to prevent short-term trading in the Portfolio and to offset any transaction and other costs associated with short-term trading.

The Trust has delegated to its Transfer Agent the responsibility for monitoring excessive trading and money flows within the Portfolio. The Adviser also monitors shareholder trades to determine if frequent trading activity is occurring. The Trust also has these policies and procedures in place to detect and deter market timing activities through its exchange privilege.

These policies and procedures have been developed to prevent market timing by any shareholder. The Trust’s market timing policies and procedures apply uniformly to all shareholder accounts. However, it may be difficult to determine frequent and abusive trading within certain types of shareholder accounts, such as those held by a broker-dealer in street name or by a mutual fund supermarket in an omnibus shareholder account.

How to Exchange Shares

You may exchange all or a portion of your investment from one New Century Portfolio to another. You may exchange shares by mail or by telephone. You are automatically granted telephone transaction privileges unless you decline them on your Account Application or by calling (888) 264-8578.

Any new account established through an exchange will have the same privileges as your original account and will also be subject to the minimum investment requirements described above. There are currently no fee or redemption charges imposed for an exchange. Exchanges will be executed on the basis of the relative NAV of the shares exchanged. An exchange is considered to be a sale of shares for federal income tax purposes on which you may realize a taxable gain or loss.

In addition to your ability to exchange all or a portion of your investment between the New Century Portfolios, you may also exchange Portfolio shares for shares of the Cash Reserve Fund. Once you have opened a Cash Reserve Fund account, you may send a written exchange request to New Century Portfolios or, if you have established telephone exchange privileges, call (888) 264-8578. Please read that Prospectus before making an exchange into the Cash Reserve Fund. This exchange privilege is offered as a convenience to the Portfolio’s shareholders. Please note that when exchanging from a Portfolio to the Cash Reserve Fund, you will begin accruing income from the Cash Reserve Fund the day following the exchange. When exchanging less than all of the balance from the Cash Reserve Fund to your Portfolio, your exchange proceeds will exclude accrued and unpaid income from the Cash Reserve Fund through the date of the exchange. When exchanging your entire balance from the Cash Reserve Fund, accrued income will automatically be exchanged into the Fund when the income is collected and paid from the Cash Reserve Fund, at the end of the month.

More Information About the Exchange Privilege. The Portfolio is intended as long-term investment vehicles and not to provide a means of speculating on short-term market movements. In addition, excessive trading can hurt a Portfolio’s performance and shareholders. Therefore, the Portfolio may terminate, without notice, the exchange privilege of any investor who uses the exchange privilege excessively (more than six times each year). This policy does not apply to investors who have elected to participate in the Automatic Exchange Program. The Portfolio may change or temporarily suspend the exchange privilege during unusual market conditions.

About the Money Market Portfolio (Cash Reserve Fund). Please be sure to read the Cash Reserve Fund Prospectus before investing in that portfolio.

The Cash Reserve Fund seeks high levels of current income consistent with liquidity and the preservation of capital by investing in U.S. dollar-denominated money market instruments that mature in 397 days (about 13 months).

The Cash Reserve Fund is managed by Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. and not by the Adviser. DWS Investments Distributors, Inc. is the distributor of the Cash Reserve Fund.

Dividends and Distributions

Frequency. The Capital Portfolio intends to declare and pay annual dividends comprised substantially all of its net investment income earned during the year from its investments, if any, to its shareholders. The Portfolio will distribute net realized capital gains, if any, at least once each year. You may elect to reinvest income dividends and capital gain distributions in shares of the Portfolio or receive these distributions in cash. Dividends and any distributions from the Portfolio is automatically reinvested in the Portfolio at NAV, unless you elect to have dividends paid in cash. Reinvested dividends and distributions receive the same tax treatment as those paid in cash.

If you are interested in changing your election, you may call (888) 264-8578 or send written notification to New Century Portfolios, c/o Ultimus Fund Solutions, LLC, P.O. Box 46707, Cincinnati, OH 45246-0707. Dividend payments are not guaranteed, are subject to the Board of Trustees' discretion and may vary with each payment. The Portfolio does not pay "interest" or guarantee any fixed rate of return on an investment in its shares.

Taxes

Portfolio dividends and distributions are taxable to most investors (unless your investment is in an IRA or other tax-advantaged account). Dividends paid by a Portfolio out of net ordinary income and distributions of net short-term capital gains are taxable to the Portfolio's shareholders as ordinary income. Dividends from net ordinary income may be eligible for the corporate dividends-received deduction.

Distributions by a Portfolio of net capital gains (the excess of net long-term capital gains over net short-term capital losses) to shareholders are generally taxable to the shareholders at the applicable long-term capital gains rate, regardless of how long the shareholder has held shares of the Portfolio.

Shareholders that sell, exchange, or redeem shares generally will have a capital gain or loss from that sale, redemption, or exchange. The amount of the gain or loss and the applicable tax rate will depend mainly upon the amount paid for the shares, the amount, if any, of reinvested distributions, the amount received from the sale, exchange or redemption, and how long the shares were held. A dividend or capital gains distribution declared by a Portfolio in October, November or December, but paid during January of the following year will be considered to be paid on December 31st of the year it was declared.

If the value of shares is reduced below a shareholder's cost as a result of a distribution by a Portfolio, the distribution will be taxable even though it, in effect, represents a return of invested capital. Investors considering buying shares just prior to a dividend or capital gain distribution payment date should be aware that, although the price of shares purchased at that time may reflect the amount of the forthcoming distribution, those who purchase just prior to the record date for a distribution may receive a distribution which will be taxable to them.

Shareholders will be advised annually as to the federal tax status of dividends and capital gain distributions made by the Portfolio for the preceding year. Distributions by the Portfolio generally will be subject to state and local taxes. Additional tax information may be found in the Statement of Additional Information. Because everyone's tax situation is unique, always consult your tax professional about federal, state and local tax consequences of an investment in the Portfolio.

Distribution Plan

The Portfolio has adopted the Trust's Rule 12b-1 plan, which allows the Portfolio to pay distribution fees for the sale and distribution of its shares. The maximum level of distribution expenses is 0.25% per year of the Portfolio's average net assets. As these fees are paid out of a Portfolio's assets on an on-going basis, over time these fees will increase the cost of your investment and may cost you more than paying other types of sales charges.

APPENDIX D – FORM OF AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

NEW CENTURY PORTFOLIOS NEW CENTURY OPPORTUNISTIC PORTFOLIO AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

THIS AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF REORGANIZATION (“Agreement”) is made as of this 23rd day of January, 2013, by New Century Portfolios (the “Trust”), a Massachusetts business trust, with its principal place of business at 100 William Street, Suite 200, Wellesley, Massachusetts 02481, on behalf of the New Century Capital Portfolio (“Acquiring Fund”), a diversified series of the Trust, and the New Century Opportunistic Portfolio (“Acquired Fund”), a diversified series of the same Trust.

This Agreement is intended to be and is adopted as a plan of reorganization and liquidation within the meaning of Section 368(a)(1) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (“Code”). The reorganization and liquidation will consist of (1) the sale, assignment, conveyance, transfer and delivery of all of the property and assets of the Acquired Fund to the Acquiring Fund in exchange solely for shares of beneficial interest of the Acquiring Fund (“Acquiring Fund Shares”) designated in this Agreement in Section 1.1 of this Agreement as the corresponding class of outstanding shares of beneficial interest of the Acquired Fund (“Acquired Fund Shares”), as described herein, (2) the assumption by the Acquiring Fund of all liabilities of the Acquired Fund, and (3) the distribution of the Acquiring Fund Shares to the shareholders of the Acquired Fund in complete liquidation of the Acquired Fund, as provided herein (“Reorganization”), all upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth in this Agreement.

WHEREAS, the Acquiring Fund is a series of the Trust, a registered investment company classified as a management investment company of the open-end type under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (“1940 Act”);

WHEREAS, the Acquired Fund is a series of New Century Portfolios, a registered investment company classified as a management investment company of the open-end type under the 1940 Act, and the Acquired Fund owns securities that generally are assets of the character in which the Acquiring Fund is permitted to invest;

WHEREAS, following the Reorganization, New Century Opportunistic Portfolio will deregister as a series of the investment company in accordance with the rules and regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“Commission”);

WHEREAS, following the effective date of its deregistration, New Century Opportunistic Portfolio shall voluntarily dissolve in accordance with Massachusetts law and the terms of its Declaration of Trust, as amended from time to time (“New Century Portfolios’ Declaration of Trust”);

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of the Trust has determined, with respect to the Acquiring Fund, that (i) the sale, assignment, conveyance, transfer and delivery of all of the property and assets of the Acquired Fund for the corresponding Acquiring Fund Shares and the assumption of all liabilities of the Acquired Fund by the Acquiring Fund is in the best interests of the Acquiring Fund and (ii) the interests of the existing shareholders of the Acquiring Fund would not be diluted as a result of this transaction; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of the Trust has determined, with respect to the Acquired Fund, that (i) the sale, assignment, conveyance, transfer and delivery of all of the property and assets of the Acquired Fund for the corresponding Acquiring Fund Shares and the assumption of all liabilities of the Acquired Fund by the Acquiring Fund is in the best interests of the Acquired Fund and (ii) the interests of the existing shareholders of the Acquired Fund would not be diluted as a result of this transaction;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and of the covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth, the parties hereto covenant and agree as follows:

1. TRANSFER OF ASSETS OF THE ACQUIRED FUND TO THE ACQUIRING FUND IN EXCHANGE FOR ACQUIRING FUND SHARES, THE ASSUMPTION OF ALL ACQUIRED FUND LIABILITIES AND THE LIQUIDATION OF THE ACQUIRED FUND

1.1 Subject to the requisite approval by the Acquired Fund Shareholders (as defined in paragraph 3.1 below) and the other terms and conditions herein set forth and on the basis of the representations and warranties contained herein, the Acquired Fund agrees to sell, assign, convey, transfer and deliver all of the property and assets of the Acquired Fund, as set forth in paragraph 1.2, to the Acquiring Fund, and the Acquiring Fund agrees in exchange therefore: (a) to deliver to the Acquired Fund the number of full and fractional Acquiring Fund Shares determined by dividing the value of the Acquired Fund’s net assets with respect to each corresponding class of Acquired Fund Shares, computed in the manner and as of the time and date set forth in paragraph 2.1, by the net asset value (“NAV”) of one Acquiring Fund Share of the corresponding class, computed in the manner and as of the time and date set forth in paragraph 2.2; and (b) to assume all liabilities of the Acquired Fund, as set forth in paragraph 1.3. Such transactions shall take place on the date of the closing provided for in paragraph 3.1 (“Closing Date”).

1.2 The property and assets of New Century Portfolios attributable to the Acquired Fund to be sold, assigned, conveyed transferred and delivered to and acquired by the Acquiring Fund shall consist of all property and assets, including, without limitation, all rights, cash, securities, commodities and futures interests and dividends or interests receivable that are owned by the Acquired Fund and any deferred or prepaid expenses shown as an asset on the books of the Acquired Fund on the Valuation Date as defined in paragraph 2.1 (collectively, “Assets”). The Acquired Fund will sell, assign, convey, transfer and deliver to the Acquiring Fund any rights, stock dividends, or other securities, if any, received by the Acquired Fund after the Closing Date as stock dividends or other distributions on or with respect to the Assets transferred, which rights, stock dividends, and other securities shall be deemed included in the Assets transferred to the Acquiring Fund at the Closing Date and shall not be separately valued, in which case any such stock dividends or other distribution that remain unpaid and/or have not been received by the Acquired Fund as of the Closing Date shall be included in the determination of the value of the Assets of the Acquired Fund acquired by the Acquiring Fund.

1.3 The Acquired Fund will (i) make its best effort to discharge all of its known liabilities and obligations prior to the Valuation Date and (ii) provide the Acquiring Fund with a Schedule to this Agreement listing any and all of the known liabilities and obligations of the Acquired Fund that were not discharged by the Valuation Date. The Acquiring Fund shall assume all of the liabilities of the Acquired Fund, whether accrued or contingent, known or unknown, existing at the Valuation Date (collectively, "Liabilities"). On or as soon as practicable prior to the Closing Date, the Acquired Fund will declare and pay to its shareholders of record one or more dividends and/or other distributions so that it will have distributed substantially all (and in no event less than 98%) of its investment company taxable income (computed without regard to any deduction for dividends paid) and realized net capital gain (after reduction for any available capital loss carryover), if any, for the current taxable year through the Closing Date.

1.4 Immediately following the actions contemplated by paragraph 1.1, the Trust shall take such actions necessary to complete the liquidation of the Acquired Fund. To complete the liquidation, the Trust, on behalf of the Acquired Fund, shall (a) distribute to the Acquired Fund's shareholders of record with respect to each class of its shares as of the Closing as defined in paragraph 3.1 ("Acquired Fund Shareholders"), on a pro rata basis within that class, the Acquiring Fund Shares of the corresponding class received by the Acquired Fund pursuant to paragraph 1.1, and (b) completely liquidate the Acquired Fund. Such distribution and liquidation will be accomplished, with respect to each class of the Acquired Fund's shares, by the transfer of the Acquiring Fund Shares then credited to the account of the Acquired Fund on the books of the Acquiring Fund to open accounts on the share records of the Acquiring Fund in the names of the Acquired Fund Shareholders. The aggregate NAV of Acquiring Fund Shares to be so credited to Acquired Fund Shareholders shall, with respect to each class, be equal to the aggregate NAV of the Acquired Fund Shares of the corresponding class owned by Acquired Fund Shareholders on the Closing Date. All issued and outstanding Acquired Fund Shares will simultaneously be canceled on the books of the Acquired Fund. The Acquiring Fund will not issue certificates representing the Acquiring Fund Shares in connection with the Reorganization.

1.5 Ownership of Acquiring Fund Shares will be shown on the books of Ultimus Fund Solutions, LLC, the Acquiring Fund's transfer agent.

1.6 Any reporting responsibility of the Acquired Fund, including, but not limited to, the responsibility for filing regulatory reports, tax returns, or other documents with the Commission, any state securities commission, and any federal, state or local tax authorities or any other relevant regulatory authority, is and shall remain the responsibility of the Acquired Fund.

1.7 As promptly as practicable following the Reorganization of the Acquired Fund, the Trust will take all necessary actions to effect its deregistration as a series of an investment company in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Commission and shall subsequently voluntarily dissolve in accordance with the requirements of Massachusetts law.

2. VALUATION

2.1 The value of the Assets shall be the value of such Assets as of the close of business of the New York Stock Exchange and after the declaration of any dividends on the Closing Date (such time and date being also referred to herein as the "Valuation Date"), computed using the valuation procedures set forth in the Acquired Fund's then-current prospectus and statement of additional information, each as may be supplemented, and valuation procedures established by the Trust's Board of Trustees.

2.2 The NAV of Acquiring Fund Share shall be the NAV per share computed with respect to that class as of the Valuation Date, computed using the valuation procedures set forth in the Acquiring Fund's then-current prospectus and statement of additional information, each as may be supplemented, and valuation procedures established by New Century Portfolios' Board of Trustees.

2.3 The number of the Acquiring Fund Shares to be issued (including fractional shares, if any) in exchange for the Acquired Fund's Assets shall be determined with respect to each such class by dividing the value of the net assets with respect to the corresponding Acquired Fund Shares, as the case may be, determined using the same valuation procedures referred to in paragraph 2.1, by the NAV of a corresponding Acquiring Fund Share (pursuant to Section 1.1 of this Agreement), determined using the same valuation procedures referred to in paragraph 2.2.

2.4 All computations of value shall be made by Ultimus Fund Solutions, LLC, in its capacity as transfer agent with respect to the Acquiring Fund, and shall be subject to confirmation by Weston Financial Group, Inc., New Century Portfolios' administrator. All computations of value with respect to the Acquired Fund shall be made by Ultimus Fund Solutions, LLC, in its capacity as transfer agent ("Acquired Fund Transfer Agent") of New Century Portfolios, and shall be subject to review by Weston Financial Group, Inc.

3. CLOSING AND CLOSING DATE

3.1 The Closing Date shall be February 28, 2013, or such other date as the parties may agree. All acts taking place at the closing of the transactions provided for in this Agreement ("Closing") shall be deemed to take place simultaneously as of the close of business on the Closing Date unless otherwise agreed to by the parties. The close of business on the Closing Date shall be as of 4:00 p.m., Eastern Time. The Closing shall be held at the offices of the Trust or at such other time and/or place as the parties may agree.

3.2 The Trust shall direct U.S. Bank, N.A., as custodian for the Acquired Fund (the "Custodian"), to deliver to the Trust at the Closing a certificate of an authorized officer of the Custodian stating that (a) the Assets of the Acquired Fund have been delivered in proper form to the Acquiring Fund within two (2) business days prior to or on the Closing Date, and (b) U.S. Bank, N.A. has paid such amounts, or set aside such amounts necessary for payment, as it has been instructed by an authorized person of the Opportunistic Portfolio under its Custody Agreement with U.S. Bank, N.A.. The Acquired Fund's portfolio securities represented by a certificate or other written instrument shall be presented by the Custodian to those persons at U.S. Bank, N.A. who have primary responsibility for the safekeeping of the assets of the Acquiring Fund. Such presentation shall be made for examination no later than five (5) business days preceding the Closing Date, and such certificates and other written instruments shall be transferred and delivered by the Acquired Fund as of the Closing Date for the account of the Acquiring Fund duly endorsed in proper form for transfer in such condition as to constitute good delivery thereof. The Custodian shall deliver to those persons at the Custodian who have primary responsibility for the safekeeping of the assets of the Acquiring Fund as of the Closing Date by book entry, in accordance with the customary practices of the Custodian and of each securities depository, as defined in Rule 17f-4 under the 1940 Act, in which the Acquired Fund's Assets are deposited, the Acquired Fund's Assets deposited with such depositories.
